Performance Update

There has been no early redemption by the Bank from Jul 2005 to June 2011 as not all the monthly share prices of each of the 5 shares are equal to or higher than their respective initial price. Since observation in July 2005, Intel Corp remained below its initial price.

From now till year 7, when the monthly share price of all these 5 shares are equal to or above their respective initial prices on any fixing date, the bank will early redeem this account in that month, thus you will receive full principal amount plus 1% payout then.
