- 28.2 Our rights pursuant to this Clause 28 subsist for as long as any Liabilities are due from you to us.

- 28.4 In addition and without prejudice to our general right of set-off under law, under this Agreement or otherwise, we are deemed to have exercised our right of set-off upon the occurrence of the following events:

- 29.1 In addition and without prejudice to any other rights to which we may be entitled by law or otherwise, we shall, for so long as any of your Liabilities remain outstanding, have a right of lien over all Assets held from time to time by us, our Agents or Nominees, in your name, or on your behalf, including Assets in transit to us, our Agents or Nominees. Immediately upon default by you, we shall be entitled, without further notice to you, to dispose, either by enforced sale or in the open market, any such Assets and to apply the proceeds towards payment and satisfaction of all or any part of your Liabilities to us (which shall, for the avoidance of doubt, include all costs, expenses and charges incurred in connection with such disposal).
- 29.2 For so long as any of your Liabilities remain outstanding, we reserve the right to decline any request by you to withdraw any of the Assets held with us, our Agents or Nominees.
- 29.3 Without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement, you agree to perform all such acts and/or execute all such documents as may be necessary for the purpose of maintaining, protecting or perfecting our right of lien over the Assets.
- 29.4 You agree and acknowledge that our Agents and Nominees may also claim a lien, right of retention or sale over any of the Assets held by it.

30. Charge

- 30.1 In consideration of us agreeing to or continuing to
- (a) make available Credit Facilities or other Services or accommodation whatsoever, including to giving time and indulgence, to you; and/or
 - (b) enter into Transactions with you, you hereby charge, pledge, mortgage, assign and otherwise create a first fixed charge to and in favour of us over all your Assets as a continuing security for the payment and discharge of your Liabilities.

The charge created hereunder is in addition to, and independent of, any charge, guarantee or other security or right or remedy now or at any time hereafter held by or available to us.

- 30.2 Without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement, you agree to perform all such acts and/or execute all such documents as may be necessary for the purpose of perfecting the charge created under this Clause 30.

31. Indemnity and Exclusion of Liability

- 31.1 Save for Losses arising directly from our gross negligence, fraud or wilful default, we shall not be responsible or liable to you for any Losses suffered or incurred by you however caused in connection with any of your Investment, Transaction, Account and/or pursuant to the Services made available to you, including any Losses arising from or in connection with:

- (a) your default or negligence;

- (c) our Communications with you by any mode of transmission;

- (m) enforcement or in contemplation of the enforcement or protection of any of our rights or resolution of any dispute (whether by judicial proceedings or otherwise) relating to the matters covered under this Agreement and/or any Applicable Agreement.

31.3 You acknowledge and agree that we may, from time to time, be required to make certain representations and/or warranties and/or accept sole and principal responsibility or liability to other third parties in respect of any Investment or Transaction entered into by us on your behalf. In such cases, you shall indemnify and hold us harmless against any and all actions taken by us (which we determine to be necessary, desirable or expedient) to ensure that we will not be in breach of our said principal responsibility or liability.

- 31.4 The indemnities in this Clause 31 constitute a separate and independent obligation from the other obligations in this Agreement, shall give rise to a separate and independent cause of action, shall apply irrespective of any indulgence granted by us and shall continue in full force and effect despite any judgment, order, claim or proof for a liquidated amount in respect of any sum due under this Agreement or any judgment or order. For the avoidance of doubt, the indemnities in this Clause 31 shall not in any way be prejudiced or affected by the closure of any of your Accounts and/or the termination of this Agreement.

32. Extraordinary Event

Without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement and/or any Applicable Agreement, upon the occurrence of any Extraordinary Event, we may in our absolute discretion determine any adjustment or action necessary in relation to any of your Investments, Transactions, Accounts and/or Services. Such adjustments or actions may include altering or varying the quantities of currencies, Securities or commodities or instruments or the exchange rates or specifications of currencies, Securities or commodities or instruments bought or sold pursuant to any Transaction, terminating any Transaction, or making payments, or converting the currency of your Accounts, in or to a currency which is a freely transferable currency at that time, at such rate of exchange as we may, in good faith, deem appropriate, and you agree to be bound by such adjustment or action.

33. Event of Force Majeure

Upon the occurrence of any Event of Force Majeure, all our obligations under this Agreement and the performance thereof shall be excused and/or suspended to the extent that the discharge and fulfilment of such obligations are prevented, frustrated, hindered or impeded as a consequence of any such Event of Force Majeure. The occurrence of any Event of Force Majeure shall not affect any right and obligation that have accrued or are accruing under this Agreement.

34. Change in Status Etc.

Your obligations and Liabilities under this Agreement and/or any Applicable Agreement shall continue to be in full force and effect and be binding on you notwithstanding:

- (a) (where you are an individual) your death, incapacity (whether mental incapacity or otherwise), bankruptcy or other legal disability;
- (b) (where you are a corporation) your winding up, insolvency, dissolution or other legal disability;
- (c) (where you are a corporation) any change by amalgamation, reconstruction or otherwise which may be made to your constitution; and
- (d) any change by amalgamation, reconstruction or otherwise which may be made to the constitution of the Bank and any sale of all or any part of our undertaking and assets to another person, and all our rights and interests under this Agreement and/or any Applicable Agreement may then be enforced by any such amalgamated or reconstructed company or person as if it had been named herein instead of us.

35. Entire Agreement

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between us in relation to the matters covered or dealt with under this Agreement or any part thereof. Any previous agreement and understanding in relation to the matters covered or dealt with in this Agreement are hereby superseded.

36. Waiver

- 36.1 Save as otherwise provided, time shall be of the essence in the performance of all obligations under this Agreement.
- 36.2 Without prejudice to Clause 36.1 above, we may (but shall not be obliged to) grant time or other indulgence to you or any other person provided always that:
- (a) any delay or omission by us in exercising or enforcing our rights, powers or remedies under this Agreement and/or any Applicable Law shall not operate as a waiver thereof or prejudice, affect or impair the exercise or enforcement of our rights, powers or remedies at any time thereafter; and
 - (b) any single or partial exercise or enforcement of any right, remedy or power shall not preclude the subsequent exercise or enforcement thereof or the exercise of any other right, remedy or power.

- 36.3 Without limiting the foregoing, no waiver by us of any breach of any provision of this Agreement, whether unconditionally or otherwise, shall be deemed to be a waiver of any subsequent breach of that or any other provision of this Agreement.
- 36.4 The rights, powers and remedies provided under this Agreement are cumulative and not exclusive of any right or remedy which we may have under any other agreements and/or provided by Applicable Laws.
- 36.5 Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, our rights under this Agreement are in addition to and do not prejudice or adversely affect and are not prejudiced or adversely affected by any collateral or other security or right or any judgment or order obtained by us for all or any part of your Liabilities.
- 36.6 We shall not be obliged to resort or seek to enforce any security or personal guarantee or liability of any other person and we shall have full power, in our absolute discretion, to give time for payment or grant any other indulgence to or make any other arrangement with any person without prejudice to your Liability under this Agreement and/or any Applicable Agreement.

37. Notices

38. Illegality or Unenforceability of Provisions

- 38.1 Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in this Agreement, if it shall become (or it shall appear to us that it has or will become) unlawful or otherwise prohibited for us to maintain or give effect to any of our obligations and/or enforce any of our rights under this Agreement, we shall thereupon notify you to that effect and we shall be entitled to exercise all or any of our rights under Clause 27.
- 38.2 If at any time, any provision in this Agreement is or becomes invalid, unlawful or unenforceable under the laws of any jurisdiction, neither the validity, legality and enforceability of (a) the same provision under the laws of any other jurisdiction or (b) the remaining provisions in this Agreement shall in any way be affected or impaired.

39. Amendment of Terms and Conditions

- 39.1 We may, by notice in writing, supplement, vary and/or modify the terms of this Agreement at any time and such supplement, variation and/or modification shall take effect from the date specified by us in the notice (which shall be binding upon receipt or deemed receipt by you). Such notice may be given to you through, or by publication of the supplement, variation and/or modification on, our website at www.dbs.com.sg.
- 39.2 If you do not accept any such supplement, variation and/or modification, you shall immediately discontinue operating your Account and/or utilising the Services provided by us and promptly close your Account and terminate this Agreement. If you continue to operate your Account and/or utilise the Services provided by us after such written notification, you are deemed to have agreed to such supplement, deletion, variation and/or modification without reservation.

40. Assignment/Transfer

- 40.1 This Agreement is binding and enures to our mutual benefit and that of our respective successors and assigns.
- 40.2 In the absence of our prior written consent, you shall not charge, assign or transfer to any third party whether by security or otherwise your rights, benefits or obligations under this Agreement.
- 40.3 You further agree that we may, at any time, assign or transfer all or any part of our rights and obligations under this Agreement and may deliver all or any of the Assets held by us as security to our transferees, who shall then become vested with all the powers and rights in this Agreement and/or the Assets so transferred, and we shall thereafter be relieved and fully discharged from any liability or responsibility thereto.

41. The Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act

- 41.1 Unless expressly provided to the contrary in this Agreement, a person who is not a party to this Agreement has no right under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act to enforce any term set out in this Agreement.
- 41.2 Notwithstanding Clause 40.1 above, it shall be the intention of parties that all defences and limitations in this Agreement shall be enforceable by all of the Bank's Affiliates, Branches, entities into or with which the Bank may merge or consolidate, any entity formed as a result of acquisition by or of the Bank, as well as our Personnel, all of whom or which shall be deemed third parties under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act. For the purposes of the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act, consent of any of such third parties is not required for any variation, rescission or termination of this Agreement.

42. Applicable Laws and Jurisdiction

- 42.1 This Agreement and all relations between you and us shall be governed by and construed in all respects in accordance with the laws of Singapore and you irrevocably submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Singapore.
- 42.2 Notwithstanding Clause 41.1 above, you agree that we shall be at liberty to initiate and take any legal action or proceeding in connection with the matters referred to in this Agreement or any dispute arising in relation thereto in any other court of competent jurisdiction and the initiation and taking of legal action or proceedings in any one or more jurisdictions shall not preclude us from taking legal action or proceedings in any other jurisdiction whether concurrently or not. You further agree to waive any objection that any legal action or proceeding commenced in the courts of any jurisdiction have been brought in an inconvenient forum and/or that such courts do not have jurisdiction over such legal action or proceeding and/or other legal actions or proceedings have been brought in another forum.
- 42.3 You further agree that the service of any legal process (including a writ of summons, summons or any originating process) on you may be effected by leaving the same at, or sending the same by registered mail to the Mailing Address. Such service of legal process or originating process shall be deemed to be good and effectual service of legal process on you if sent by post, on the date immediately following the date of posting and if served by personal delivery, on the date of leaving or delivery at the Mailing Address. Such service shall be deemed to be proper service of the legal process even though the legal process is returned undelivered. Notwithstanding the foregoing, we shall be entitled to effect service of legal process in any other manner permitted by law.
- 42.4 You further undertake that where you do not have an address in Singapore, you shall, if required by us, nominate a process agent, at your expense, with an address in Singapore to accept service of any legal process in Singapore on your behalf. The process agent shall acknowledge its appointment as such agent to us and service of legal process on such process agent shall be deemed to constitute good and effectual service of legal process on you.

PART C – GENERAL RISK DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

1. This General Risk Disclosure Statement forms an integral part of this Agreement. Please note that this is an important document which you should read carefully. Unless otherwise defined in this General Risk Disclosure Statement, terms and references defined in Part A of this Agreement shall have the same meanings when used in this General Risk Disclosure Statement.
2. The objective of this General Risk Disclosure Statement is to explain to you briefly the nature and risks of the Investments and Transactions that you may undertake with us. In particular, you must be aware that the risk of loss in any Investment or Transaction can be substantial.
3. However, this General Risk Disclosure Statement does not purport to advise you of the suitability of any particular Investment or Transaction for your purpose and/or disclose or discuss all the risks and other significant aspects of any Investment or Transaction. You should carefully consider whether entering into any particular Investment or Transaction is suitable for you, your operations, business and organisation in light of your financial resources, experience, objectives for engaging in the Investments or Transactions, ability to bear risk and other relevant circumstances. It is your sole responsibility to make your own independent appraisal and investigation into the risks associated with the desired Investment or Transaction. Prior to entering into any particular Investment or Transaction, you should consult your own legal, tax, financial and other relevant professional advisers and ensure that you have sufficient investment knowledge and experience to make your own evaluation of the merits and risks of such Investment or Transaction.

Contractual Terms and Obligations

4. You agree that we are not obliged to give advice or make recommendations on any Investment or Transaction and notwithstanding that we may do so on your request or otherwise, any such advice or recommendation are given or made without any responsibility on our part and on the basis that you will nevertheless make your own assessment and rely on your own judgment.
5. Before entering into any Investment or Transaction, you should ensure that you understand fully:
 - (a) the nature and fundamentals of each Investment or Transaction and the market in which such Investment or Transaction (where applicable) is traded in;
 - (b) the legal terms and conditions and all of your rights and obligations, as set out in the Applicable Agreement for each Investment or Transaction, including:
 - (i) the terms as to price, tenor, expiration dates, restrictions on exercising an option (as the case may be) and other terms material to the Investment or Transaction;
 - (ii) any term describing risk factors, such as volatility, liquidity, inability to exit the Investment or Transaction before its scheduled maturity or expiry date; and
 - (iii) the circumstances under which you may become obliged to make or take delivery of the underlying interest of the Investment or Transaction;
 - (c) the legal risks surrounding the Investment or Transaction, including the circumstances under which the Investment or Transaction may be illegal, resulting in it being void and unenforceable;
 - (d) the extent of the economic and associated risks to which you are exposed to as a result of such Investment or Transaction (and to determine that such risk is suitable for you in light of your own specific experience in relation to that specific Investment or Transaction and your financial objectives, circumstances and resources);
 - (e) the regulatory and tax treatment of the Investment or Transaction (which can be complex); and
 - (f) the nature and scope of the relationship between yourself and us in respect of each Investment or Transaction undertaken by you.
6. We may (but shall not be obliged to) furnish you with term sheets or other materials describing the Investment or Transaction and setting out the material terms thereof or such other information as we may consider relevant in relation thereto. We may (but shall not be obliged to) provide you with a sensitivity analysis illustration of your potential exposure to market movements. Any such sensitivity analysis is for illustration only and is not to be treated as our view on current or future market movements. You are advised to carry out your own analysis.

7. Unless otherwise indicated by us, your Investments are not bank deposits and are not obligations of, or guaranteed by us or any of our Affiliates and are subject to all investment risks and possible loss of the principal amount invested by you. Past performance of the same or of similar investments is not an indication of, nor a guarantee of future performance of your Investment.
8. You should always ensure that you have in place proper and sufficient means of monitoring the various types of risks associated with any Investment or Transaction (which can be complex and substantial). We will not be undertaking such monitoring for you in any circumstance whatsoever.
9. We are entitled to (but shall not be obliged to) act upon your Instructions in relation to any Investment or Transaction and you should not assume that we will warn you if your Instructions are ill-timed or inadvisable for any reason or if such Instructions are likely to result in Losses to you. We will not be liable for any advice or opinion given by any of our employees or agents with respect to any Investment or Transaction and you are taken to be acting in reliance upon your own judgment as to the merits and risk of entering into any Investment or Transaction.
10. You should be aware that we are not responsible for any Losses that may be suffered by you, arising from or in connection with movement in prices or exchange rates, errors or delays in the transmission of any Instruction from or to you or changes in any Applicable Law.

Potential Conflict of Interest

11. Regardless of whether you or any third party make a profit or loss from any Investment or Transaction, we may make a profit from any Investment or Transaction entered into with you or on your behalf.
12. You understand that we act simultaneously for a large number of customers as well as for our own account. Accordingly, conflicts of interest cannot be completely avoided. You acknowledge that we and/or our Affiliates may (a) be the issuer of any Investment, (b) combine your orders with our own orders or the orders of other customers, (c) make Investments or effect Transactions for you through the agency of and/or with a counterparty which is a related organisation or a person otherwise associated with us, (d) have a position or a direct or indirect interest in any Investment or Transaction even if such position or interest is opposite to that taken by you, (e) have bought or sold any investment or entered into any transaction as principal or for other customers, or (f) have other banking, advisory or other corporate relationships with companies whose investments are held for your account or are purchased and sold for you and our Personnel may be officers and directors of such companies. Subject to any Applicable Law, we and/or our Affiliates shall not be liable to account or specifically disclose to you any profit, charge or remuneration made or received from any such Investment or Transaction or other connected investments or transactions.
13. Any "all-in" price provided by us for Investments or Transactions entered into with you as principal may include a sales and trading mark-up over the interbank price. Such sales and trading mark-up will not exceed the maximum dollar amount or percentage range detailed in our published fee and benefits schedule in force at the relevant time, unless you agree otherwise. If we are able to execute the Investment or Transaction at a better interbank price, you agree that we may retain the benefit from such price improvement provided that the sales and trading mark-up do not exceed the maximum amount or percentage range published in our fees and benefits schedule, or otherwise agreed with you.
14. You acknowledge that we may pay to, or receive from, any Agent fees, charges or other quantifiable benefits (such as rebates, commissions and retrocessions) in any form in respect of, or may profit or gain (whether in the form of a sales and trading mark-up or otherwise) from (a) any Investment or Transaction effected for or with you or (b) any hedge effected by us in connection with any Investment or Transaction or (c) any Service provided to you in our capacity as principal, trustee or agent. We will disclose such quantifiable benefits, profit or gain received by us in accordance with Applicable Laws and to the extent permitted by Applicable Laws, you agree that we shall not be liable to account to you for, and may retain, the same for our own account and benefit.
15. The Services provided by us to you are non-exclusive and we are under no obligation to account to you for any benefit received by providing any Service to other customers or to disclose to you any fact or thing which may come to our notice in the course of providing any Service to other customers or in any other capacity or in any manner whatsoever otherwise than in the course of providing Services to you under this Agreement and/or any Applicable Agreement.

16. You should be aware that we are engaged in certain customer driven and proprietary activities in many markets. These general activities, as well as our hedging activities which are or may be related to certain Investments or Transactions entered into with you, may adversely affect the value of such Investments or Transactions.

Market Forces and Related Risks

17. Your payments or receipts under any Investment or Transaction will be dependent on changes in the particular financial market to which the Investment or Transaction is linked, and you will be exposed to price, currency exchange, interest rate or other volatility in that market. Such market movements cannot be predicted accurately. You acknowledge and accept that you may sustain substantial Losses on your Investment or Transaction (such as sustaining a total Loss in excess of the invested amount and any collateral held by us) if the market conditions move against your positions. It is in your interest to fully understand the impact of market movements, in particular the extent of profit or loss that you would be exposed to when there is an upward or downward movement in the relevant rates and the extent of loss if you have to liquidate a position if market conditions move against you. Your positions may be liquidated at a loss and you will be liable for any resulting deficit.
18. You should also be aware that there is a general risk of market failure or collapse which may arise from any political or financial development or any unpredictable event that may immediately result in sharp price movements, volatile market conditions and strained market liquidity.
19. Under certain market conditions, it may be difficult or impossible to liquidate a position, to assess a fair price or assess risk exposure. This can happen, for example, where the market for an Investment or Transaction is illiquid, where there is simply no market traders for such Investment or Transaction, where there is a failure in electronic or telecommunications systems or where there is the occurrence of an Event of Force Majeure (which includes any form of restriction, moratorium or suspension on trading imposed by an Exchange, market or other authority regulating trading in the Investments or Transactions). Such events will increase the risk of loss to you.
20. On certain Exchanges, the performance of a Transaction by a broker (or any third party with whom he is dealing on your behalf) may be "guaranteed" by that Exchange. However, any such guarantee is unlikely in most circumstances to provide full cover and may not protect you completely if the broker or the third party defaults on its obligations to you.
21. As the prices of over-the-counter Transactions are individually negotiated and there is no central source for obtaining prices, there are or may be inefficiencies in transaction pricing. We consequently cannot and do not warrant that our prices or the prices that we secure for you are or will at any time be the best price available to you. We may make a profit from an over-the-counter Transaction undertaken by you regardless of the outcome of that over-the-counter Transaction from your point of view. Further, since there is no central market, over-the-counter Transactions may only be unwound with the agreement of the counterparty. Over-the-counter Transactions entail more risks than exchange-traded Transactions in terms of liquidity risk, credit and counterparty risk and pricing transparency.
22. Placing contingent orders (such as "stop-loss" or "stop-limit" orders, which are intended to limit Losses to certain amounts) may not necessarily limit your Losses to the intended amounts, as it may be difficult or impossible to execute such orders either in accordance with your Instructions, or at all, under certain market conditions. At times, it is also difficult or impossible to liquidate a position without incurring substantial Losses. Accordingly, you accept and bear the risk of, and hereby release and discharge us from, all liability arising out of the execution or the non-execution of a "stop-loss" or "stop-limit" order and pursuant to such acceptance authorise us, should any such circumstances occur, to execute any order at such rate and in such manner as we may deem appropriate. Strategies using combinations of positions, such as "spread" and "straddle" positions, may be as risky as taking simple "long" or "short" positions.

Securities Trading

23. The prices of Securities fluctuate, sometimes dramatically. The prices of Securities may move up or down. In certain circumstances, the Securities may become valueless. There is therefore an inherent risk that Losses rather than profits may be incurred as a result of buying and selling Securities.

Exchange Traded Instruments, Trading Facilities and Electronic Trading

24. In respect of Investments or Transactions involving underlying contracts or instruments which are traded on an Exchange, market conditions of the Exchange (such as liquidity) and/or the operation of the rules of such Exchange (such as any discretion on the part of the Exchange to suspend or limit trading of any contract or instrument because of price limits or “circuit breakers”) may increase the risk of loss by making it difficult or impossible to effect any transaction (including closing out any Investment or Transaction) or liquidate or offset any position. Under certain circumstances, the specifications of outstanding contracts (including the exercise price of an option) may also be modified by the Exchange or clearing house to reflect changes in the underlying interest.
25. Most open-outcry and electronic trading facilities are supported by computer-based component systems for the order-routing, execution, matching, registration or clearing of trades. As with all facilities and systems, they are vulnerable to temporary disruption or failure. Your ability to recover Losses may be subject to limits on liability imposed by one or more parties, including the system provider, the Exchange, clearing house or member firms and such limits may vary. You should obtain details in this respect from the relevant parties.
26. If you trade through or on an electronic trading system, you will be exposed to the risks of any defect, deficiency or malfunction in, and/or any breakdown, disruption or failure of, any telecommunications, computer or other electronic equipment or system associated with such electronic system. This could result in a disruption in the trading activities at the Exchange or an unavailability of reference prices for the relevant Investment or Transaction. In such circumstances, the Investment or Transaction may not be executed according to your Instructions or may not be executed at all, which may lead to Losses to you.

Alternative Stock Markets

27. Alternative stock markets (such as the Growth Enterprise Market in Hong Kong) are often established as a market designed to accommodate companies with higher investment risk. In particular, companies may list on an alternative stock market with neither a track record of profitability nor any obligation to forecast future profitability. There may be risks arising out of the emerging nature of companies listed on an alternative stock market and the business sectors or countries in which such companies operate. Securities listed on such alternative stock markets may be susceptible to higher market volatility and/or a lack of liquidity, as compared to main board listed Securities. The higher risk profile and characteristics of an alternate stock market mean that it is a market more suited to professional and other sophisticated investors.
28. You should also be aware that companies listed on an alternative stock market are generally not required to issue announcements in gazetted newspapers. As such, the principal means of information dissemination on such markets is through publication on an internet website. Accordingly, you should ensure that you have access to up-to-date information on the companies listed on an alternative stock market as published on the relevant internet website.

Investments or Transactions in Other Jurisdictions

29. Investments or Transactions on markets in other jurisdictions other than your home jurisdiction may expose you to additional risk. Such markets can have different rules and may be subject to regulations that may offer different or diminished investor protection or varied financial/creditor hierarchy frameworks. Before you trade, you should enquire about any rule relevant to your particular Investment or Transaction and make an independent assessment and investigation. Your local regulatory authority may be unable to compel the enforcement of rules of the regulatory authorities or markets in other jurisdictions where your Investments or Transactions have been effected. You should enquire for details about the types of redress available in both your home jurisdiction and the other relevant jurisdictions before you trade.

Emerging Markets

30. Emerging markets typically refer to markets in countries with moderate to low per capita national income. While Investments or Transactions involving emerging markets financial instruments may yield large gains, they can also be highly risky and unpredictable. There may be inadequate regulations and safeguards available to investors. Besides the risks inherent in all investments, those associated with emerging markets include country/region risk where government intervention in markets, perhaps in the form of exchange control laws or restrictions in the repatriation of profits, which may affect the value of any Investment or Transaction or your ability to enjoy its benefits. In addition, events (for instance, natural disasters, fluctuations in commodity prices and/or exchange rates and political upheavals) which may have a minor or limited effect in more mature markets could affect emerging markets profoundly.

31. Any Investment or Transaction involving emerging markets financial instruments or referencing an emerging market needs careful and independent assessment of the risks in relation thereto (including sovereign risk, issuer risk, price risk, political risk and liquidity risk).

Indicative Values of Derivative Transactions and Non-Listed Instruments

32. In respect of Investments or Transactions in financial derivatives and non-listed financial instruments, in particular in “combined” or “structured” transactions, the absence of a “market” or “common” reference price may make it impossible for us to provide the precise value of that Investment or Transaction. You should therefore be aware that the price indications provided by us are always based on the latest available market prices (if any) of the underlying instrument or have been derived from sources believed to be reliable. Consequently, price indications provided by us may not reflect the actual price at which an Investment or Transaction may be terminated or unwound, if this is possible at all. We do not make any representation as to the accuracy or completeness of price indications for any Investment or Transactions and do not accept liability for any Losses arising from the use thereof.
- 32A. The “net open positions”, “market” price or value of Investments or Transactions in financial derivatives and non-listed financial instruments are (where possible and subject to the circumstances stated here) typically marked-to-market from time to time by the Bank and may take reference to the rates or prices prevailing at the relevant time in the relevant market obtained from various sources such as and not limited to: screen based sources, benchmark administrators, other market participants, dealers in the relevant markets, information vendors, or sourced from internally, or by employing valuation methods that the Bank deems to be commonly accepted or applicable. Valuation information from third parties may be part of these third parties’ proprietary systems which the Bank has no oversight of. The valuations may therefore not correspond with valuations given by another market participant and the Bank shall have no liability in respect of any error or omission arising from the valuations given or from use of the valuations or reliance placed on them.

The valuation of the Investments or Transactions would also be duly discounted by the Bank in accordance with its prevailing policies and practices in certain circumstances such as and not limited to where these constitute collateral in favour of the Bank or for purposes of setting off your Liabilities. For certain Investments or Transactions, mark-to-market gains may also not be factored into the valuation by the Bank. The Bank may include its cost of funding, hedging or other requirements to the extent it deems required to adjust any quotations and valuations and the client accepts the valuation from the Bank on an “as-is” basis and which may be adjusted at any point in time.

Off-Exchange Investments or Transactions

33. Off-exchange Investments or Transactions may be less regulated or subject to a separate regulatory regime and as such, the risk is correspondingly higher. Additionally, such off-exchange Investments or Transactions may be non-transferrable and therefore, it may be difficult or impossible for you to close out or liquidate an open position. Situations may also arise where no market traders are prepared to deal in such off-exchange Investments or Transactions or no proper information may be available to determine the value or the fair price of such Investments or Transactions or to assess the exposure to risk. Before entering into any such off-exchange Investments or Transactions, you should fully familiarise yourself with all applicable rules and the attendant risks.

Leveraged Transactions / Margin Trading

34. Leveraging may be undertaken by way of a loan, utilisation of margin trading facilities or may be embedded within an instrument such as a structured note. The high degree of leverage resulting from a relatively small margin requirement in respect of any Investment or Transaction can work against you as well as for you due to fluctuating market conditions and you acknowledge that the use of leverage can lead to large Losses in excess of the original invested amount, as well as gains.
35. When you undertake any Investment or Transaction using any margin trading facilities extended to you, please be aware of the following:
- (a) You must ensure that you have sufficient margin in respect of any approved limit. The required amount of margin varies, depending on the Investments or Transactions undertaken by you and is determined by us from time to time, in our absolute discretion, and may be changed at any time.

- (b) We retain full discretion to determine the Assets that are acceptable as margin and the valuation of such Assets.
 - (c) The risk of loss in financing an Investment or Transaction through the use of the margin trading facilities is significant. You may sustain Losses in excess of the margin deposited with us as a relatively small market movement may have a large impact on the value of the margin. In some cases, while the amount of the initial margin deposited with us may be small relative to the value of the Investment or Transaction, a relatively small market movement would have a proportionately larger impact on the margin deposited or to be deposited with us; this may work against you as well as for you.
 - (d) If the market moves against you, you may not only sustain a total loss of your initial margin deposit and any additional margin deposited with us to maintain your position, you may also incur further Liability to us or sustain further or additional Losses.
36. Subject to the provisions of any Applicable Agreement, if we, in our absolute discretion, determine that the value of the margin deposited with us is insufficient to support your exposure in all or any of the Investments or Transactions, we may take such action as we deem fit to make up the shortfall, including:
- (a) calling upon you to deposit additional margin at short notice in order to maintain your position; if you fail to comply with the request for additional margin within the specified period, we may liquidate all or any of your Investment or Transaction at a loss and you will be liable for any resulting deficit in your Account;
 - (b) realising such part or all of the margin or other collateral as we deem necessary to satisfy your Liabilities, without notice to or consent from you; and/or
 - (c) closing out, liquidating, setting off, realising or otherwise dealing with any or all of your outstanding Investments or Transactions (notwithstanding that any such Investment or Transaction has not yet matured and regardless of whether you may suffer Loss as a result thereof) at such time and by such means and in such manner as we, in our absolute discretion, deem appropriate, without notice to or consent from you.
37. You must be prepared to pay interest cost for the use of any margin trading facilities. Any such facilities may also be terminated or varied by us in accordance with the terms of the Applicable Agreement.
38. You should therefore carefully consider whether carrying out leveraged Investments or Transactions is suitable for you, in light of your own financial position and investment objective, and ensure that you do not commit yourself to any Investment or Transaction which is beyond your means.

Counterparty Risk and Credit Risk

39. If we are your counterparty to any Investment or Transaction, you are taking on and are subject to the credit risk of DBS Bank Ltd., Singapore. You understand that we deal with you at arms' length as your counterparty. We are not your fiduciary, nor do we accept any fiduciary obligation owed to you. You acknowledge that any dealing, trading or engagement or transaction with us by you could result in Losses to you and a gain to us. Subject to any Applicable Law, we are not obliged to account to you for the gain that we enjoy.
40. We do not and will not give you any advice, whether written or oral, other than the representations which will be expressly set forth in any Applicable Agreement and any confirmation which may be signed or executed by you after negotiations with us as your counterparty.
41. We may not always be your contractual counterparty or the issuer of certain Investments or Transactions. Where we are not your contractual counterparty or the issuer, your contractual counterparty or the third party issuer, and not us, will be liable to you under that Investment or Transaction. Accordingly, in considering whether to enter into any Investment or Transaction, you should take into account all risks associated with such counterparty or third party issuer, including the counterparty's or third party issuer's financial standing.
42. Often, you will be purchasing an unsecured obligation of such counterparty (as opposed to an obligation of a central clearing corporation as would be the case with exchange traded futures and options) and you should evaluate the comparative credit risk. In addition, there is a risk of counterparty or issuer default which may arise from, inter alia, insolvency factors.

43. You agree that any Investment or Transaction entered into on your behalf with any counterparty and/or broker is subject to the prevailing terms and conditions as may be stipulated by such counterparty and/or broker and is dependent on the performance, settlement, payment or delivery by such counterparty and/or broker (notwithstanding that between you and us, we act as principal in such Investment or Transaction). You shall hold us, our Personnel, Affiliates, Nominees and Agents harmless from any liability in connection with the failure of these parties to meet their obligations/ responsibilities and that of any other external parties involved in the said Investment or Transaction. Any insolvency or default of such counterparty and/or broker may result in Losses to you or lead to your positions being liquidated or closed out without prior notice to or consent from you. In certain circumstances, you may not even get back the actual Assets which you have deposited as collateral with us and you may have to accept any available payment in cash.
44. Certain transactions also involve the assumption by you of other credit risks and you should ensure that you are able to evaluate all such risks.

Deposited Assets and Cash

45. You should familiarise yourself with the protections accorded to any Cash and other Assets deposited by you in connection with any Investment or Transaction, particularly in the event of our insolvency, or the insolvency of an issuer, counterparty, custodian or intermediary. The extent to which you may recover your Cash or other Assets will be governed by Applicable Laws and you may in certain cases fail to recover all of such Cash or Assets. In some jurisdictions, property which had been specifically identified as your own will be pro-rated in the same manner as cash for the purposes of distribution in the event of a shortfall.

Transaction Costs and Tax

46. Before entering into any Investment or Transaction, you should request for a clear explanation of all commissions, fees and other charges for which you will be liable. Your net returns from any Investment or Transaction would be affected by any such commissions, fees and other charges, as well as any relevant tax liability (such as income tax). The tax implications of any Investment or Transaction are dependent upon the nature of your business activities and the Investment or Transaction in question and you should therefore consult your tax adviser to understand the relevant tax considerations. These transaction costs must be considered in any risk assessment undertaken by you.
47. You should be aware that the interest payable by you under any Credit Facilities (where applicable), foreign exchange risks and any negative gearing are variables that add to the risks of any Investment or Transaction.

Liquidity and Marketability Risks

48. You should be aware that at certain times, or under certain market conditions, it may be difficult or impossible to liquidate a position, to assess value or to determine a fair price of any Investment or Transaction. Certain Securities and money market instruments, in particular, structured notes or products, may not be readily realisable or marketable. There can be no certainty that market traders will be prepared to deal in them.
49. Liquidity risks decrease for near term Investments or Transactions and increase for Investments or Transactions which have longer maturity periods or are linked to emerging markets and instruments with lower credit ratings. Reversing any Investment or Transaction at short notice can be difficult or even, impossible, especially for complicated structures. Unexpected and sudden erosion of liquidity can also arise from sharp price movements and volatile market conditions, resulting in illiquid markets.
50. The benefits of customisation of any Investment or Transaction to achieve your particular financial and risk management objectives may be offset by significant liquidity risks.

Currency Risks

51. Fluctuations in exchange rates can have an impact on your profit or Loss from any Investment or Transaction if that Investment or Transaction is denominated or settled in a different currency from the currency used to carry out the Investment or Transaction, for your ordinary business or to keep your accounts.
52. When you trade in a foreign jurisdiction, you should also take into account the applicable tax and exchange controls, including whether profits may be repatriated by you.

Interest Rate Risk

53. Interest rate fluctuations may have an adverse impact on the value of certain Investments, in particular, debt instruments, such as bonds or money market instruments.

Non-Transferability And Non-Marketability

54. Generally, an Investment or Transaction cannot be assigned or transferred without the consent of the counterparty. In this regard, we are not obliged to terminate, unwind or repurchase any Investment or Transaction from you. If your Investments or Transactions are customised and not fungible, engaging in a transaction with another dealer to offset a Transaction you have entered into with us, whether on your behalf or otherwise, will not automatically close out those positions (as would be true in the case of equivalent exchange-traded futures and options) and will not necessarily function as a perfect hedge and may increase the risk to you. It may also be difficult or impossible to liquidate an existing position, assess the value thereof, determine a fair price or assess the exposure to risk.

Risks Associated With Specific Investments

Fixed Income Investments

55. Although Investments in fixed income instruments are perceived to be conservative investments and more predictable than equities, they are not without risks. In particular, in purchasing any fixed income instruments, you should be aware of the following:
- (a) You take on the risk that the issuer of the fixed income instrument or the counterparty may not honour its obligations to pay principal and/or interest, resulting in Losses to you. In this regard, published ratings of any issuer of fixed income instrument should be supplemented by your own credit analysis of the issuer's credit risk as changes in the ratings of any issuer of fixed income instrument may lag behind changes in financial conditions. You should perform periodic independent analysis to determine the credit risk of the issuer of any fixed income instrument and evaluate the merits and risks of such fixed income instrument.
 - (b) You are exposed to liquidity risk as there may be no market for a fixed income instrument and you may not be able to sell the fixed income instrument at the desired time or price. Even when a market exists, there may be a substantial difference between the offer and purchase price for a fixed income instrument.
 - (c) You are exposed to the risk of interest rate fluctuations as the value of fixed income instruments will fluctuate with changes in interest rates. The degree of interest rate sensitivity depends on the maturity, coupon and call provisions of the fixed income instrument. Floating rate fixed income instruments lessen your interest rate risk to the extent that the interest rate adjustments are responsive to market rate movements. If the issuer of the fixed income instruments has the right to redeem the fixed income instruments before maturity, this can adversely affect your exposure.
 - (d) Where the fixed income instrument is held by the Bank (or its nominee) on your behalf, the Bank will provide custody services in respect of such holdings in accordance with the Custody Terms. Should a credit event occur, the Bank will take reasonable steps to forward to you any notice or other communication received in respect of such fixed instrument. As the Bank may not be privy to the debt restructuring plans and/or other negotiations between the issuer and its creditors (due to the confidential nature of such discussions), the availability and flow of information may be greatly diminished in such circumstances.

Options

56. Options are essentially contracts whereby the owner of the options has the right, but not the obligation, to purchase or sell an asset at a fixed price at or by a specific date. Investments or Transactions involving options carry a high degree of risk and are not suitable for many members of the public. You should only enter into such Investments or Transactions after you have read, understood and familiarised yourself with the type of options, style of exercise, the nature and extent of rights and obligations and all associated risks. If in doubt, you should seek independent advice so as to understand and be familiar with the risks involved.
57. If you purchase an option, you should be aware of the following:
- (a) Under certain adverse market conditions when the market moves against an option position, the purchased option can expire worthless and you will suffer a total loss of the original investment which would consist of the option premium and the transaction costs. If you are contemplating purchasing deep-out-of-the-money options, you should be aware that ordinarily, the chance of such options becoming profitable is remote.

- (b) In order to realise any value from the option, it will be necessary either to offset the option position or to exercise the option.
 - (c) Some option contracts may provide only a limited period of time for the exercise of the option, and some option contracts may provide for the exercise of the option on a specified or stipulated date. For barrier options, the exercise rights will only arise when the market value of the underlying instrument reaches the barrier (in the case of knock-in options) or will expire irrevocably when that barrier is reached (in the case of knock-out options).
 - (d) Exercising an option results either in a cash settlement, or the acquisition or delivery of the underlying instrument.
58. Buying options involves less risk than selling or writing options because if the price of the underlying instrument moves against you, you can simply allow the option to lapse and your maximum Loss is limited to the premium, plus any commission or other charges. However, if you buy a call option on an underlying instrument and later exercise the option, you will acquire the underlying instrument and therefore expose yourself to the risks on the underlying instrument.
59. The risks associated with selling or writing an option is generally greater than purchasing an option. Although the premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller may sustain a Loss well in excess of the amount of premium received. The seller may also be required to deposit additional margin to maintain the position if the market moves unfavourably. If the purchaser exercises the option, the seller would be required to either settle the option in cash, or acquire or deliver the underlying instrument. If the option is "covered" by the seller holding a corresponding position in the underlying instrument or another option, the risk may be reduced. An option is described as "covered" if the option seller already has a corresponding quantity of the relevant underlying instrument at its disposal. Conversely, if the option is not covered, the possible Loss will be unlimited.
60. You should carefully calculate the price and the exchange rate (where applicable) which the underlying instrument would have to reach for the option position to become profitable. This would include amounts by which the underlying instrument or the extent at which the exchange rate would have to rise above or fall below the strike price to cover the sum of the premium and all other costs incurred in entering into and exercising or closing the option position.
61. Certain Exchanges in some jurisdictions permit deferred payment of the option premium, limiting the liability of the purchaser of an option to margin payments not exceeding the amount of the premium. Nonetheless, the purchaser of an option is still subject to the risk of losing the premium and transaction costs. When the option is exercised or expires, the purchaser is responsible for any unpaid premium outstanding at that time.
62. Apart from plain vanilla put and call options, there are other types of options, including non-deliverable foreign exchange options, acquisitions of two or more options commonly known as a combination, and exotic options. There is no limit to the structures, types and terms of such options. Investments or Transactions involving such options are very complex and high risk and you should seek independent advice before entering into any such Investment or Transaction.

Forwards and Futures

63. Forwards and futures entail the obligation to deliver or take delivery on a specified expiration date of a defined quantity of an underlying asset at a price agreed. Futures are standardised contracts traded on an Exchange while forwards are traded over-the-counter. Forwards and futures may involve high degree of risks.
64. When buying or selling an underlying asset by way of a forward or futures contract, a specified initial margin must often be supplied at the beginning of the Investment or Transaction. We may require additional margin to be provided periodically or at any time during the life of the forward or futures contract if we determine that the margin provided by you has fallen below the amount required by us. This usually corresponds to the mark-to-market loss arising from a decline in value of the Investment or Transaction or the underlying assets.
65. For forward sales, the underlying asset must be delivered at the strike price agreed even if its market value has risen since the date the Investment or Transaction was entered into. The seller thus does not benefit from the increase in the market value above the agreed strike price.

66. For forward purchases, the buyer must take delivery of the underlying asset at the strike price agreed even if its market value has fallen since the date the Investment or Transaction was entered into. The buyer's potential Loss would be the difference between the agreed strike price and the market value of the underlying assets. The maximum Loss corresponds to the strike price. Notwithstanding, potential Losses can substantially exceed any margin requirements.

Structured Products

67. Structured products are formed by combining two or more financial instruments, including one or more derivatives. Structured products may carry a high degree of risk and are not suitable for all investors. These products can be extremely complicated and of a high risk nature and may involve risks associated with financial instruments that may be interconnected.
68. The net outcome of structured products will depend on the performance of the Underlying. The effect of a market movement (however slight) or event could lead to substantial Losses and may even involve the loss of the entire amount initially invested. You should therefore ensure that you fully understand the risks associated with each Underlying, as well as the structured product as a whole, and satisfy yourself that you are willing to accept all such risks. You should also be aware that each structured product has its own risk profile and given the unlimited number of possible combinations, it is not possible to detail in this General Risk Disclosure Statement all the risks which may arise in any particular case. In this regard, prior to entering into any Investment or Transaction involving structured products, you should obtain independent advice so as to understand and be familiar with the risks involved.
69. You should note that with structured products, the buyer can only assert their rights against the issuer; hence particular attention should be paid to issuer risk. You should also be aware that a total loss of your investment is possible if the issuer or its counterparty should default.
70. As structured products are usually executed over-the-counter, it may accordingly be difficult to liquidate an existing position, assess the value of, determine a fair price for or assess your exposure to risks under such Investment or Transaction. This uncertainty should be factored in by you in the overall consideration of the potential impact of your Investment or Transaction.
71. Any forecast on the economy, stock market, bond market and economic trends of the markets provided to you is not necessarily indicative of the future or likely performance of any structured products. Where any past performance of a structured product, or that of its Underlying, is provided to you to illustrate possible returns of such structured product, such past performance is also not necessarily indicative of future performance of such structured product.

Structured Deposits

72. Unlike traditional Deposits, Structured Deposits have an investment element. The returns on such Structured Deposits are variable and not guaranteed, and are usually contingent on the performance of one or more relevant Underlying. Structured Deposits are also not insured deposits for the purposes of the Deposit Insurance and Policy Owners' Protection Schemes Act. Structured Deposits cover a wide range of investment products and may include range deposits and such like products. Prior to entering into any Investment or Transaction involving Structured Deposits, you should read and understand all the relevant terms and conditions of, and the risks associated with, such Structured Deposits and ensure that such investments are suitable for you.
73. Structured Deposits are generally held for longer tenors than traditional fixed or time Deposits. You should therefore ensure that you have sufficient funds and/or the necessary liquidity in order to hold each Structured Deposit until maturity. Unless we otherwise agree, the principal amount of a Structured Deposit cannot be withdrawn, whether partially or in whole, prior to its maturity. If we allow for Premature Termination, we shall be entitled to deduct from the principal amount, any Premature Termination Costs. Certain Structured Deposits may be subject to early termination before maturity by us in accordance with the Applicable Agreement. In such instances, you may receive less than the principal amount invested in the Structured Deposit or be exposed to the potential loss of the principal sum invested in the Structured Deposit if the Structured Deposit is not held to maturity.

Currency Linked Investment

74. A Currency Linked Investment involves a currency option which confers on us, as the deposit-taking institution, the right to repay the principal amount and interest accrued thereon on the CLI Maturity Date in either the Base Currency or the Alternate Currency. All or part of the interest received on the Currency Linked Investment represents the premium on the currency option. If you enter into a Currency Linked Investment, you must be prepared to receive the principal amount and accrued interest in the Alternate Currency, converted at the Pre-Agreed Exchange Rate on the CLI Maturity Date.
75. Whether the principal amount and interest accrued thereon is to be repaid in the Base Currency or the Alternate Currency will depend on the level of the prevailing exchange rate between the Base Currency and the Alternate Currency against the Pre-Agreed Exchange Rate at the CLI Fixing Time. If repayment is to be made in the Alternate Currency, the amount payable will be converted from the Base Currency into the Alternate Currency at the Pre-Agreed Exchange Rate. This may result in you receiving less than the principal amount initially invested, when such amount in the Alternate Currency is converted back to the Base Currency.
76. Currency Linked Investments are subject to exchange rate fluctuations which may affect the returns on such investment. A wide range of factors, including national and international financial and economic conditions and political and natural events, may affect exchange rates. The effect of normal market forces may at times be discounted by interventions of central banks and other bodies, including foreign exchange controls being imposed. At times, the exchange rates may rise or fall sharply. If the exchange rate moves against your favour, you may incur a loss on your principal sum in comparison with the amount initially invested.
77. Unless we otherwise agree, the principal amount cannot be withdrawn, whether partially or in whole, prior to its maturity. If we allow for Premature Termination, we shall be entitled to deduct from the amount payable to you any Premature Termination Costs. Any payment you may receive upon such Premature Termination may be substantially less than the principal amount initially invested.
78. A Currency Linked Investment may be subject to early termination by us before maturity upon the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event (including, the imposition of exchange control restrictions or any devaluation, redenomination or demonetisation of the Base Currency or the Alternate Currency). In such instances, you may receive less than the principal amount initially invested.

Swaps

79. A swap transaction involves an exchange of future payment streams, and occasionally, also an exchange of principal at the start of the transaction or on maturity. Examples of swap transactions include interest rate swaps, currency swaps and total return swaps.
80. An investor who enters into an interest rate swap will be subject to interest rate risk. Interest rates movements will affect the swap's cash flow and mark-to-market value. If the swap involves payments in different currencies, your position will also be affected by fluctuations in exchange rates. As movements in interest and exchange rates may be influenced by a variety of factors, such as inflationary fears and a weakening currency, it is often difficult to anticipate such movements.
81. A party to a swap transaction also runs the risk that the counterparty will default or otherwise fail to perform its obligations.
82. A swap agreement may also be combined with an option and is known as a "swaption". As a hybrid, a swaption generates two important exposures: (a) the probability of exercise and (b) the credit risk emerging from the swap. The credit risk of any swaption is the cost to one counterparty of replacing the swaption in the event that the other counterparty is unable to perform. You should also be aware that liquidity risk is high for swaption with long-dated option components.

Credit Derivatives

83. Credit derivatives are financial instruments that permit one party (the beneficiary) to transfer the credit risk of a reference asset (such as traded sovereign and corporate debt instruments or syndicated bank loans), which it typically owns, to another party (the guarantor) without actually selling the reference asset. Credit derivatives can take the form of swaps, options or hybrid financial instruments.

84. Credit derivatives involve a liquidity risk. Often, such instruments cannot be sold before maturity as there is no market for such instruments. Investors will additionally be exposed to the credit risk on each of the reference assets, as well as the issuer of the reference assets. As Investments or Transactions involving credit derivatives carry a high degree of risk, you are advised to seek independent professional advice should you decide to enter into such Investments or Transactions.

Unit Trusts

85. Unit trusts are not bank deposits or obligations of or guaranteed by us, or any of our Affiliates. A unit trust is a pool of money managed collectively by a fund manager who invests in a portfolio of assets to achieve certain investment objectives. Unit trusts are naturally subject to investment risks including the possible loss of the principal amount invested. The value of units and the income from any unit trust may fall as well as rise and cannot be guaranteed. Past performance of a unit trust is not necessarily indicative of the future performance of that unit trust.
86. Any forecast or opinion provided to you by the fund manager are as at the date of the document and is subject to change from time to time. Such forecasts or opinions should not be regarded as a guarantee of future or likely performance of the unit trust. You should also note that there are necessarily limitations whenever performance is stated or comparison is made to another unit trust for a period of less than three years and that there are limitations and difficulties in using any graph, chart, formula or other device to determine whether or not and when to make an investment in any unit trust.

Exchange Traded Funds

87. Exchange traded funds are open-ended investment funds listed and traded intra-day on an Exchange. Exchange traded funds are not principal protected and you may not get back your original investment. You should also be aware that exchange traded funds may not make any dividend distributions, even if the Securities it holds do so.
88. An exchange traded fund is exposed to the liquidity and market risks of the Securities it holds and may incur substantial Losses due to the inability to dispose of its holdings of any affected Securities. Further, an exchange traded fund may concentrate its investments in issuers of one or more particular industries or geographical regions. If the particular industry or geographical location performs poorly, this will magnify the negative impact on the value of the exchange traded funds.
89. You should also be aware that most exchange traded funds are not actively managed. Accordingly, exchange traded funds may be adversely affected by a decline in the market segments relating to its Underlying.
90. A number of factors may also affect an exchange traded fund's ability to achieve a high correlation with its Underlying and there can be no guarantee that an exchange traded fund will achieve a high degree of correlation. A failure to achieve a high degree of correlation may prevent an exchange traded fund from achieving its investment objectives.
91. There is a risk that the exchange traded fund manager's strategy, the implementation of which is subject to a number of constraints, may not produce the intended results. This risk is especially pertinent when the exchange traded fund does not replicate its Underlying, but instead holds non-index Securities.
92. You should be aware that the value of an exchange traded fund may decline when the counterparty with whom the exchange traded fund purchases financial instruments from and/or enter into agreements with, becomes insolvent or otherwise fail to perform their obligations for any reason.
93. You should take note of the following additional risks (which are not exhaustive) if you invest in non-traditional exchange traded funds:
- (a) Non-traditional exchange traded funds may employ the technique of short selling to achieve an investment exposure consistent with its investment objective. The use of such short selling technique may involve additional transaction costs and other expenses. As a result, the cost of maintaining a short position may exceed the return on the position, which may cause the non-traditional exchange traded fund to lose money. Under certain market condition, short selling can increase the volatility and decrease the liquidity of certain Securities and may lower the return or result in Losses to the non-traditional exchange traded fund.

- (b) Non-traditional exchange traded funds may seek to provide a return which is either a multiple and/or an inverse of the daily performance of its Underlying. A non-traditional exchange traded fund rebalances its portfolio on a daily basis, increasing exposure in response to that day's gains or reducing exposure in response to that day's losses and there is a risk of a near complete loss of the value of the non-traditional exchange traded fund. Non-traditional exchange traded funds are designed as short term trading vehicles for investors who intend to actively monitor and manage their portfolios. They are not intended and/or suitable for investors who do not intend to actively monitor and manage their portfolio.
- (c) For Investments or Transactions involving leveraged non-traditional exchange traded funds, you will be exposed to the risk that any adverse daily performance of that exchange traded fund's Underlying will be leveraged.
- (d) Inverse exchange traded funds, a type of non-traditional exchange traded fund, are negatively correlated to their Underlying and could lose money when the indices rise. This is a result that is opposite from conventional exchange traded fund.

Non-traditional Funds

- 94. Non-traditional funds are investment companies which differ from traditional equity and bond investments on account of their investment style. Such non-traditional funds include hedge funds, alternative investment funds and offshore funds.
- 95. If you invest in non-traditional funds, you should be aware of the following risks (which are not exhaustive):
 - (a) The investment strategies adopted by such non-traditional funds are often high risk and highly complex. Further, due to the use of leverage, a small movement in the market can lead to a major gain, but any Losses will also be magnified sharply. In certain circumstances, the entire amount of your Investment could be lost.
 - (b) The non-traditional fund industry is largely unregulated and the availability, quality and flow of information may be significantly less than that for traditional investment products. Investors may not be kept informed about the fund's strategies or changes to the fund management team.
 - (c) The liquidity and tradability of non-traditional funds can vary a great deal and fixed holding or "lock-up" periods lasting many years are not unusual. Liquidations of such funds may also stretch over many years.
 - (d) Certain non-traditional funds may provide for powers to compulsorily redeem all or any portion of an investor's holdings at any time and for any reason upon short notice. The proceeds that an investor may receive upon such redemption may be substantially less than the amount invested in the fund.
 - (e) Many non-traditional funds have an offshore domicile and may be subject to less stringent legislation and supervision, which in turn offers poorer investor protection. Problems or delays may arise in the settlement of buy and sell orders for units in such funds. There is also no guarantee that your legal rights under these non-traditional funds will be enforceable.
- 96. Non-traditional funds can take countless different forms and involve a high degree of risk. Before undertaking any Investment or Transaction involving non-traditional funds, you should seek independent advice about the particular risks involved and carefully study any information (including the Fund Offering Documents) on the relevant Investment or Transaction. You should ensure that you fully understand and agree to assume the risks involved and the exposure to potential Loss (which could involve the complete loss of your Investments).

Private Equity Investments

- 97. Private equity investments generally involve the placing of investment capital in private companies and/or Funds. Such capital may be used for a variety of purposes, including financing of high-risk projects which are expected to generate higher returns, making acquisitions and corporate restructuring.

98. The contractual conditions governing a private equity investment often require the contribution of liquid funds in a substantial amount and for a considerable period of time. Such contributions are made either by a single payment or by several payments over a certain period of time. Once you have made the commitment to invest, you must be ready to meet calls for capital contribution, known generally as “capital calls” or “commitment calls”, which may be made at short notice. The penalty for failure to honour any capital or commitment calls can be extreme, including a complete forfeiture of any capital already invested.
99. Any capital invested by you may be tied up, either completely or with restricted access, during such period. As there is no recognised secondary market in private equity investments, such Investments may not be sold and/or transferred freely.
100. Private equity investments may be realised in several ways, including a sale of the participations through eventual public listings on Exchanges, mergers with other companies, a sale to another interested party or a recapitalisation. Considerable Losses, or even a total loss of your investment may occur, for example, when such private companies and/or Funds are either wound up or declared insolvent and/or the commercial interest in the business of the private companies or Funds cease to exist.

Investments in Gold Bullion and other Commodities/Commodity Investments

101. Investments or Transactions involving Gold Bullion or other commodities carry a high degree of risk and may not be suitable for many members of the public. The extent of loss due to market movements can be substantial or even result in a total loss of the original investment.
102. Investments or Transactions involving Gold Bullion or other commodities may be undertaken in many forms, including futures contracts, forward contracts, leveraged trading contracts, contracts made pursuant to trading in differences, spot trading contracts, swaps, options and other derivative transactions involving any combination of one or more of any of the foregoing as well as any other Investment or Transaction which we may carry out with you from time to time.
103. The market for Gold Bullion or other commodities is speculative and may be highly volatile. Prices for Gold Bullion and other commodities are affected by a variety of factors, including changes in supply and demand relationship, governmental programmes and policies, national and international political and economic events, wars and acts of terror, changes in interest and exchange rates, trading activities in commodities and related contracts, weather and agricultural harvest, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control policies. You will also be subject to the volatility of the Gold Bullion or other commodities markets and political and other risks in the jurisdictions in which the Gold Bullion or other commodities are traded. The value of Gold Bullion or other commodities may experience downward movements and may under some circumstances even become valueless. Past performance of Gold Bullion or other commodities is not indicative of future results as prices can go up or down. There is therefore an inherent risk that Losses rather than profits may be incurred as a result of buying or selling Gold Bullion or other commodities.
104. Changes in the price of Gold Bullion or other commodities can be unpredictable, sudden and large. Such changes may result in the price or value of the commodity or the Investment or Transaction moving adversely against the investor's interests and negatively impacting upon the return on, or settlement of such Investment or Transaction. In extreme circumstances, you may lose all, or a significant proportion of, your initial investment amount.
105. Under certain market conditions, it may be difficult or impossible to liquidate a position. Placing contingent orders, such as “stop-loss” or “stop-limit” orders, will not necessarily limit your Losses to the intended amounts, since market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders.
106. The price volatility of a commodity also affects the value of the futures, options and forward contracts related to that commodity and therefore its price at any such time. The volatility of commodity prices is significant and often higher than for an equity portfolio. The commodity markets are in most cases less liquid as compared to the markets for equities, interest or currency-related products.
107. Depending on the Investment and/or Transaction in question, you should be aware of the following risks (which are not exhaustive):
- (a) Commodity Investments are not deposits nor does the value of any Commodity standing to the credit of your Commodity Investment Account (as may be reflected in any Account Statement or Transaction Record) represent a deposit of money.

- (b) Unless otherwise indicated by us, we act as principal in each Investment or Transaction involving commodities, including Gold Bullion Transactions and any sale or purchase of Commodities through your Commodity Investment Account with us.
 - (c) Certain Investments or Transactions involving Gold Bullion or other commodities may increase liquidity risk and introduce other significant risk factors of a complex character.
 - (d) Over-the-counter bilateral Investments or Transactions involving Gold Bullion or other commodities may be modified or terminated only by mutual consent and subject to agreement on individually negotiated terms. Accordingly, it may not be possible for you to modify, terminate or offset your obligations or your exposure to the risks associated with such Investment or Transaction prior to its agreed termination.
 - (e) There may be adjustments to the terms of your Investments or Transactions involving Gold Bullion or other commodities due to events, such as market disruption, insolvency and changes in any Applicable Law, and such adjustments may reduce the return on your Investments.
108. You should take note of the following additional risks if you undertake Commodity Investments through your Commodity Investment Account with us:
- (a) There may be adjustments to the terms of your Commodity Investment Account opened and/or maintained with us upon the occurrence of certain events, including market disruption, insolvency and changes in any Applicable Law and such adjustments may reduce any amount that may be payable to you.
 - (b) You may not be permitted to take physical delivery of any Commodity purchased or otherwise acquired by you pursuant to any Investment or Transaction and/or standing to the credit of your Commodity Investment Account other than in accordance with the Applicable Agreement and/or the Product Terms and upon such additional terms as we may stipulate from time to time.
109. Funds placed with a commodity broker or spot commodity broker for the purpose of participating in foreign markets may not enjoy the same level of protection as funds placed in commodity markets in your home jurisdiction.
110. You should not take the risk disclosures set out herein as exhaustive and/or as business, legal, tax, accounting or other advice or as modifying any Applicable Law. These risk disclosures cannot disclose all the risks and other significant aspects of the commodity market or of the commodity futures market. You should therefore carefully study commodity futures trading, trading in commodity contracts and spot commodity trading before you trade.

Digital Tokens Generally

111. Holders of Digital Tokens will be subject to the general risks associated with ownership of digital assets. The prices of Digital Tokens are subject to supply and demand and can fluctuate greatly within a short period of time in response to other factors, including security concerns, technological developments and negative publicity. Psychological market risks may have a particular effect on digital assets and their prices may be adversely affected by global or local economic, political, environmental or other factors.
112. Returns on new investment asset classes such as Digital Tokens are particularly exposed to legal and regulatory risk. Changes or uncertainty in the legal or regulatory framework relating to blockchain technology and/or digital assets may adversely impact the returns on your investment or even render a previously accepted investment illegal.
113. The tax treatment and accounting of Digital Tokens is uncertain and may vary amongst jurisdictions. Investors should seek their own tax advice in connection with purchasing, holding and transferring Digital Tokens, which may result in adverse tax consequences. Changes to tax laws and regulations may also have a large impact on the profitability of your investment in Digital Tokens.
114. Cryptographic tokens such as Digital Tokens are a new and relatively untested technology. In addition to the risks noted in this General Risk Disclosure Statement, there may be other risks associated with Digital Tokens that the Bank cannot anticipate. Such risks may have a material adverse effect on the value of the Digital Tokens.

115. When purchasing Digital Tokens in initial offerings, investors should note that such offerings could carry a higher risk of being misused for illegal activities due to the pseudo-anonymous nature of the transactions. Investors are likely to be adversely affected if authorities investigate any alleged illicit activities related to the issuer, its business activities, or the trading of the Digital Tokens.

Cryptocurrencies and other Digital Payment Tokens

116. The value of cryptocurrencies and other Digital Payment Tokens can be unpredictable and may fluctuate significantly over a short period of time as a result of various factors, including market dynamics, regulatory changes, technical advancements, and economic and political factors.
117. Any purchase or sale of Digital Payment Tokens made by the Bank on your behalf will be effected through the Digital Exchange, which is only accessible to members. Due to the different demand and supply and inventory of members, prices on the Digital Exchange may, at any given point in time, be significantly higher or lower than the prices of the same Digital Payment Token in the general market or quoted on other exchanges or trading platforms. You must therefore be prepared to bear the economic risk of an investment in the Security Tokens for an extended period of time, as it may be difficult or impossible for the investor to sell/ dispose of the Security Tokens, including the risk that your entire investment in the Security Tokens may be lost.
118. Digital Payment Tokens are intended to represent a new capability on emerging technology that is not fully proven in use. As the technology matures, new capabilities may dramatically alter the usefulness of Digital Payment Tokens or the ability to use or sell them. The functionality of Digital Payment Tokens is complex, will require enhancements and product support over time, and full functionality may take longer than expected. The full functionality of the Digital Payment Tokens is not yet complete and no assurance can be provided of such completion.
119. The Digital Payment Tokens may be targeted by hackers or malicious groups or organisations who may attempt to interfere with the Digital Payment Tokens and/or steal the Digital Payment Tokens in various ways, including malware attacks, distributed denial of service, consensus-based attacks, Sybil attacks, phishing, smurfing and hacking.
120. The public blockchains relating to Digital Payment Tokens are susceptible to mining attacks, including double-spend attacks, majority mining power attacks, “selfish-mining” attacks, and race condition attacks. Any successful attacks present a risk to the Digital Payment Tokens, including proper execution and sequencing of transactions involving Digital Payment Tokens, or may result in theft or loss of the Digital Payment Tokens.

Security Tokens

121. Security Tokens are complex financial instruments. Prospective investors should ensure that they have the expertise to understand how the product is structured (which may differ from case to case) and the applicable terms and conditions. In most cases, an investor will have no legal or beneficial interest in the asset represented by the Security Token; rather, the investor will have a contractual relationship with the issuer only and its rights and remedies with respect to the investment will be limited to contractual remedies against the issuer in accordance with the terms of the relevant Security Token.
122. Issuers of Security Tokens may be early stage companies without a track record of profitability. Investing in such companies involves a high level of risk and you may suffer a total loss of your investment.
123. Security Tokens typically confer no governance rights of any kind with respect to the issuer. Accordingly, key decisions, including decisions to liquidate the issuer and/or to create and sell more Security Tokens, will be made by the issuer at its sole discretion. These decisions could adversely affect the value of the Security Tokens.
124. Security Tokens are novel and the application of securities laws of various jurisdictions to investors of such assets is unclear in many respects. Changes or uncertainty in the legal or regulatory framework applicable to such assets may adversely affect the value of the Security Tokens.
125. The issuer of the Security Tokens may not be subject to disclosure and prospectus requirements under Part XIII of the Securities and Futures Act and the Digital Exchange's admission of the issuers is not subject to MAS' oversight. Where the documents or materials issued in connection with the offer or sale of the Security Tokens are not a prospectus as defined in the Securities and Futures Act and are not registered as a prospectus with the MAS, statutory liability under the Securities and Futures Act in relation to the content of prospectuses would not apply, and you should consider carefully whether the investment is suitable for you.

126. Security Tokens are typically only available to institutional and/or accredited investors. In addition, save in certain circumstances detailed in the product documentation, sale of or transfers of Security Tokens traded on the Digital Exchange may only take place between members of the Digital Exchange. These restrictions may further limit liquidity in the Security Tokens and/or have a material adverse effect on the development of any trading market in the Security Tokens. You must therefore be prepared to bear the economic risk of an investment in the Security Tokens for an extended period of time, as it may be difficult or impossible for the investor to sell/ dispose of the Security Tokens, including the risk that your entire investment in the Security Tokens may be lost.
127. As the Security Tokens traded on the Digital Exchange will be held by the Bank (an intermediary member of the Digital Exchange) on your behalf, the failure, administration or insolvency of the Bank may adversely affect your access to the Digital Exchange.
128. You may not have direct recourse against the issuer in respect of your holding of the Security Tokens and may have to enforce your rights through the Bank as the intermediary member. There may be constraints, e.g. due to conflicts of interest, on the Bank's ability to take action against the issuer on your behalf. In such a scenario, you may not be able to realise the value of the Security Tokens in the event of an insolvency of the issuer and/or the relevant intermediary member.
129. Members of the DBS Group may act in various capacities in the issuance of Security Tokens traded on the Digital Exchange, for example, as issuer, custodian and/or manager of the offering. The DBS Group also manages and/or operates the Digital Exchange, the Blockchain and the Trading System (and in doing so, would be involved in the minting and burning of the Security Tokens, as well as other decisions relating to the Digital Exchange including and not limited to the delisting of Security Tokens), and members of the DBS Group may also act as intermediaries involved in the distribution of the Security Tokens during the initial offering to end investors and hold these Security Tokens on behalf of such investors. As such, conflicts of interest cannot be completely avoided.

Risks Associated With the Digital Exchange, the Trading System and the Blockchain

130. The Digital Exchange's and DBS Group's network or services could be disrupted by various adverse events which are beyond the control of the Digital Exchange and DBS Group. There can be no assurance that any of the intended security measures will be effective. System failures may also prevent the making of markets for the Digital Tokens, which may potentially impact on the liquidity for the Digital Tokens.
131. The Digital Exchange has a short and limited operating history which subjects it to a number of uncertainties, in particular the ability to plan for and anticipate the prospects of the Trading System. The use of the Trading System could be affected by a number of factors, including market reception of the Trading System and slowing demand or increasing competition, resulting in reduced number of users of the Trading System which may in turn impact the liquidity of the Digital Tokens.
132. Distributed ledger technology generally, and the private Ethereum blockchain software upon which the Blockchain is designed, is still in a relatively early development stage and is unproven. Any malfunction, flaws, breakdown or abandonment of the Ethereum blockchain may prevent access to your Digital Tokens. Furthermore, developments in cryptographic technologies and techniques or changes in consensus protocol or algorithms could present risks to the Digital Tokens, including by rendering ineffective the cryptographic consensus mechanism that the Blockchain uses. There are a variety of possible cryptographic consensus mechanisms, such as "proof of work" and "proof of stake" which may be used either now or in the future, and risks which may arise if there is any improper implementation of such consensus mechanisms, and unanticipated adverse effects may arise from these such consensus mechanisms. Any malfunction, breakdown or flaws in distributed ledger technology used by the Digital Exchange could have a material impact on its ability to execute or settle trades of the Digital Tokens, to maintain accurate records of the ownership of the Digital Tokens and could in turn have a material adverse effect on you.
133. While the use of a private blockchain and other logical and governance procedures may limit the impact of distributed ledger technology reliant upon cryptographic consensus mechanisms, such distributed ledger technology reliant upon cryptographic consensus mechanisms may be susceptible to mining attacks, including double-spend attacks, majority mining power attacks, "selfish-mining" attacks, and race condition attacks. Any successful attacks on the Blockchain may present a risk to the Digital Tokens, including proper execution and sequencing of transactions involving the Digital Tokens.

134. Hackers, individuals, other malicious groups or organisations may attempt to interfere with the Blockchain, or the information technology systems they are run on or reliant upon, in a variety of ways, including malware attacks, denial of service attacks, ransomware attacks, phishing attacks, rootkits, viruses, worms, consensus-based attacks, smurfing and spoofing. As the Trading System and Blockchain are both based on third party software, there is a risk that a party may intentionally or unintentionally introduce weaknesses into the core infrastructure of the Blockchain.
135. The Trading System and Blockchain are reliant on effective and reliable cryptographic solutions. However, cryptography is evolving and cannot guarantee absolute security at all times. Advances in code cracking, or technical advances such as the development of quantum computers, could present risks to cryptographic solutions, and could result in the theft or loss of the Digital Tokens. The Trading System and Blockchain may be prone to attacks on their infrastructure intended to steal information about their technology, financial data or user information. Any significant breach of intended security measures or other disruptions resulting in a compromise of the usability, stability and security of the Trading System or Blockchain may adversely affect the trading of Digital Tokens on the Digital Exchange.
136. Settlement of transactions matched on the Digital Exchange takes place outside of the Trading System built on the Blockchain. The Trading System does not settle trades through a regulated central depository. Accordingly, you will not benefit from related legislative protections including provisions dealing with settlement finality, which ensures that transactions settled by a regulated central depository are generally not subject to reversal.
137. Prices of Digital Tokens change continuously 24 hours throughout the day. The investor should be aware that he/she may not be able to execute a trade on the Digital Exchange, even if the market price of Cryptocurrencies continues to change.

- (h) choose, on your behalf and in our absolute discretion, to receive a distribution in cash or in kind, unless you have expressly instructed us in writing of your preferred type of distribution, provided always that where a distribution is to be received in kind, you agree that we shall be entitled to disregard any fractional entitlement and you hereby waive any right and claim to such fractional entitlement.
 - (i) where applicable, exchange any Asset in interim or temporary form for other Assets in definitive form and (where applicable), deliver physical scrip form of such Assets to any Depository set up for the purpose of and/or operating scripless trading and to complete and deliver any document that may be required in connection therewith;
 - (j) deliver any document of title and any other instruments relating to such Assets to you at your own risk;
 - (k) execute, as custodian, any necessary declaration or certificate of ownership under any Applicable Law now or in future; and
 - (l) take any action as we shall think fit in the performance of our obligations under these Custody Terms.
7. You understand and agree that we are under no obligation to:
- (a) supervise or monitor any of your Investments or Transactions involving any Asset kept in custody with us;
 - (b) advise or make any recommendation for any Investment or Transaction in relation to the sale, purchase or disposal of any Asset kept in custody with us unless we agree otherwise;
 - (c) assess the suitability and appropriateness of any Investment or Transaction involving any Asset kept in custody with us;
 - (d) assist you in claiming any tax benefit(s) or claims for a reduced withholding rate (whether under a tax treaty or any other Applicable Law) in connection with any Asset kept in custody with us, including any exemption from, or a reduced rate of, withholding for income derived from such Asset;
 - (e) assist you to seek reimbursement from any third parties of any amounts due to any withholding that had been applied at a higher rate than that which you are entitled to or which you view to be the applicable rate;
 - (f) insofar as regards Assets in physical scrip form that are kept in custody by us, provide any banking, processing or custodial service in respect of such Assets, save as expressly set out herein or as otherwise agreed to in writing; and
 - (g) attend or authorise you, as proxy, to attend any meeting or exercise any voting and other right attaching to or derived from such Assets or discharge any obligation conferred or imposed by reason of such holding (including rights or obligations in connection with any allotment, subscription, conversion, consolidation or reorganisation or any merger, receivership, bankruptcy, winding-up or other insolvency proceedings or any compromise or arrangement) or investigate, participate or take any affirmative action in connection therewith, provided always that we may, in our absolute discretion and subject to such terms and conditions as we may stipulate, accept and act in accordance with your Instructions in relation to any of the above-mentioned matters.
- 7A. Notwithstanding anything stated herein and without prejudice thereto, in the event that we agree to a request to apply a reduced rate of withholding tax in connection with your assets kept in custody with us, you agree that:
- (a) we may decline at any time in our sole discretion to proceed further with your request;
 - (b) you will provide to us all information (in any form) as we may require from time to time for the purpose of processing your request. You further represent and warrant that (i) the information provided by you is complete and accurate; (ii) you shall notify us as soon as practicable when there is a change in your circumstances; (iii) you shall update your tax status periodically in such frequency, required form and within the time period as specified by us from time to time; and (iv) you meet all requirements of the relevant tax treaty(ies) or any other Applicable Law pursuant to which you are seeking the application of a reduced rate of withholding tax;

- (c) you are aware that we shall be entitled to withhold the relevant amount of taxes in accordance with our existing processes and/or as we determine in our discretion to be necessary, and hence any relevant withholding rate(s) applied may be revised from time to time in our discretion;
 - (d) at any point in time, should it be determined by us that a revised/higher withholding rate should have been applied, we are entitled to automatically deduct from your account the relevant difference, such that the amounts due to us or which should have been received by us is equal to the full amount had no withholding or deduction been required; and
 - (e) in the event that a reduced withholding rate is applied, we are not responsible for crediting to you the difference from, or any backdated amounts that had been previously withheld at, the higher withholding rate.
8. You agree that any Asset held or registered in our name and/or the name of our Nominee may, in our absolute discretion, be re-deposited with any Agent as may be selected by us (whether in Singapore or elsewhere) for your account and at your sole risk. Provided that we have acted in good faith and used reasonable care in the selection and continued appointment of such Agent, you agree that we shall not be responsible for any act, omission or default or for the insolvency of such Agent.
9. Without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement, your Assets deposited with us or held by any third party in our name may be held on a tangible basis or commingled with assets belonging to other parties. You understand and agree that identification by distinctive numbers of any Asset owned by you may not be possible and that your interest in such Assets may not be identifiable by separate certificates or other physical documents or equivalent electronic records. In such case, we will maintain records of your interest in such Assets which have been commingled in the manner as provided herein. Neither us nor any Agent holding any Asset on your behalf shall be bound to return to you the identical Assets deposited in custody so long as such Assets returned to you are of the same class, denomination, quantity and nominal amount and rank pari passu with those originally deposited with or transferred to us (subject always to any capital reorganisation in the meantime).
10. You agree to pay such custody fees as may be specified in our published fees and benefits schedule in force at the relevant time in respect of the Services made available to you under these Custody Terms. Without prejudice to and in addition to the foregoing, we may charge a separate custodian or safe-keeping fee for our handling of any Asset which is in physical scrip form.
11. Unless otherwise instructed by you in writing, we will take reasonable steps to forward to you, as soon as practicable after receipt, any notice or other communication (including those relating to redemption, rights issues, bonus issues and matters relating to corporate changes) received in respect of Assets kept in custody by us pursuant to these Custody Terms. If we receive any notice or communication that does not call for any corporate action, we shall have no obligation to forward such notice or communication to you. Save for Losses arising from gross negligence, fraud or wilful default on our part, we and/or our Nominees shall not be liable for any Losses arising out of or in consequence of any failure to forward such notice or communication correctly or promptly or in sufficient time for Instructions to be given to any matter referred to in such notice or communication.
12. Without prejudice to Clause 7(f) of these Custody Terms, after becoming aware of any corporate event (including any actual or proposed takeover, offer, sale, merger, compromise, arrangement, bankruptcy, insolvency or administrative proceedings affecting or in relation to any Asset or the issuer of any Asset or in relation to any rights for conversion, transfer or exchange of Asset), we may (but shall not be obliged to), subject to such terms and conditions as we may stipulate, accept and act in accordance with your Instructions in relation to any of the above-mentioned matters, provided always that in the absence of any Instruction from you in due time, we may take or not take any action as we may, in our absolute discretion, consider reasonably appropriate under the circumstances. The foregoing is subject to our rights under this Agreement and/or any Applicable Agreement in respect of such Asset.

13. Without prejudice to any provision in these Custody Terms, you acknowledge and agree that we may, on occasions, hold the same class of assets on behalf of one or more customers and in exercising any voting and other rights attached to such assets, we will exercise such rights in accordance with the Instructions given to us by the majority of such customers, notwithstanding that you may have given contrary Instructions in respect of your Assets. Further, you acknowledge that we do not guarantee nor are we under any obligation to ensure that any corporate action that may be taken by the issuer of any Asset would reflect and/or be in accordance with your Instructions to us.
14. In the absence of any prior contrary Instruction from you, we may settle, for and on your behalf, any Liability arising from or in respect of our holding of your Assets. For this purpose, we are authorised to debit such amount payable from any of your Bank Accounts and where necessary, effect any currency conversion at the prevailing rate of exchange, to settle such Liabilities and we shall not be liable for any Losses arising from the settlement of such Liabilities or the failure to do so. The foregoing shall be without prejudice to any right of set-off and/or lien that we may have over such Assets.
15. We will furnish you with periodic statements in respect of your Assets and notify you of any Transaction carried out in respect of such Assets as soon as practicable after each Transaction.
16. Certain charges or expenses incurred by the Bank on your behalf and charged to your account may be rounded up. Depending on the product, such rounding may apply to the amount or percentage as the case may be. Charges and expenses refer to any expenses that may be incurred by DBS on your behalf and may not be foreseeable at the time of the transaction, including and not limited to gas/miners' fees (for crypto transactions), locally mandated charges, commissions, taxes, special handling transfer fees, and others. These may be rounded up and hence amounts may marginally exceed that which is actually incurred, is not refundable and would be dealt with by DBS.
17. The provision of Services set out in these Custody Terms does not constitute us as a trustee (other than a bare trustee) and we shall have no trust, fiduciary or other obligations in respect of any Asset kept in custody with us pursuant to these Custody Terms, save for those expressly provided for in these Custody Terms or as otherwise agreed in writing.
18. We will use the same care with respect to your Assets kept in custody with us as we use in respect of our own similar property, provided always that we are not required to maintain any insurance in respect of any Asset kept in custody with us pursuant to these Custody Terms.
19. Unless otherwise assigned or charged to us by way of security and subject always to Applicable Laws and/or any Applicable Agreement (including any subscription agreement, information memorandum or other offering document relating to the Assets), your Assets kept in custody with us pursuant to these Custody Terms are subject at all times to your control.
20. The Services to which these Custody Terms applies may be terminated by you or us in accordance with this Agreement. Upon termination, we will, subject to the release and discharge of any security created over any of such Assets in favour of us, deliver all your Assets to you or to such other party as you may designate, provided always that we shall not be required to make any such delivery unless and until we have received full payment of all Liabilities. You acknowledge that until payment in full of all Liabilities is made, we shall have a right of lien in respect of your Assets.
21. You shall hold us, our Personnel, Affiliates, Nominees and Agents harmless from any liability in connection with the matters set out in this section and fully indemnify the aforesaid parties against all Losses which they may suffer or incur in connection therewith.

PART E – SPECIFIC TERMS AND CONDITIONS GOVERNING PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

1. These Product Terms set out the terms and conditions applicable to Deposits and certain investment products which we may make available to you from time to time, and the Services which we may offer to you in relation to such Deposits or investment products.
2. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between:
 - (a) these Product Terms and the Account Terms, these Product Terms shall prevail; and/or
 - (b) these Product Terms and any Applicable Agreement in respect of any Deposit or investment product, that Applicable Agreement shall prevail.
3. General
 - 3.1 The principal amount in respect of any Deposit or investment product, as the case may be, must be received by us on or before the Deposit Date or, as the case may be, such date as we may stipulate in respect of any investment product, provided always that we may, in our absolute discretion, decline to accept any such funds received (or any part thereof) as the principal amount for such Deposit or investment product. Any monies received but not so accepted by us shall be returned to you in such manner as we consider appropriate, including by way of credit to any Bank Account.
 - 3.2 Subject to the provisions of any Applicable Agreement, you acknowledge that all Deposits and investment products are meant to be held or maintained to maturity and you shall not be entitled to undertake any Premature Termination without our consent, which consent may be granted in our absolute discretion and on such terms and conditions as we may determine.
 - 3.3 If we permit any Premature Termination of any Deposit or investment product, you agree that we may deduct any Premature Termination Costs from any amount payable to you in respect of such Deposit or investment product. In the event that the Premature Termination Costs exceeds such amount payable to you, the deficit shall form a debt due and payable by you to us in respect of which we shall be entitled to exercise our rights under this Agreement. Without prejudice to the foregoing, any payment to you in connection with any Premature Termination shall be determined solely by us and you agree that any such payment may be dependent upon our ability to successfully discharge any related hedge or arrangement.
4. Deposits
 - 4.1 We may, at any time, prescribe such terms and conditions as we may deem appropriate in respect of any Deposit and/or revise any of such terms and conditions, including, where applicable, the currency of the Deposit, the minimum placement period, the minimum placement amount, subsequent placement and the interest rate (including negative interest, where applicable) or yield in respect of such Deposit.
 - 4.2 We may, following placement of a Deposit, send you a deposit advice or statement. Such deposit advice or statement are only evidence of a deposit and not a document of title and may not be pledged as security.
 - 4.3 Interest (including negative interest, where applicable) in respect of any Deposit shall accrue on the principal amount, at such rate and on such basis as may be agreed between you and us, from the Deposit Date up to but excluding the Deposit Maturity Date. Where interest is payable to you, such interest shall be paid on the Deposit Maturity Date. Where negative interest is chargeable on the Deposit, such interest shall be debited from your Account on the Deposit Maturity Date.
 - 4.4 Unless otherwise agreed between you and us, the principal amount of any Deposit together with the interest accrued thereon (including negative interest, where applicable), will be paid to you (or debited in relation to negative interest, where applicable) on the Deposit Maturity Date. In the absence of any Instruction from you to the contrary, we are authorised (but not obliged) to renew such Deposit on such terms and conditions and for such tenor as we shall deem appropriate.

- 4.5 Without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement and/or any Applicable Agreement, upon the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event, we shall be entitled to take such action in respect of any Deposit as we deem fit including:
- (a) terminating any Deposit, upon which we shall pay to you an amount to be determined by us, in our absolute discretion, as being the fair market value of such Deposit as at the date of termination less any Losses that may be suffered and/or incurred by us as a result of such termination; or
 - (b) where applicable:
 - (i) reducing, suspending or stopping the payment of interest on the Deposit;
 - (ii) varying the interest rate applicable to the Deposit (including to impose zero or negative interest rates on the Deposit), the currency of the Deposit and the Deposit Period and you shall pay us the relevant fees and charges and any amount owing to us (including negative interest, service fees, if any);
 - (iii) impose and debit such fees or charges from your Account.

5. Currency Linked Investments

- 5.1 The terms of each Currency Linked Investment shall be agreed prior to the CLI Value Date, either orally or in writing, and confirmed in such form as we shall, in our absolute discretion deem appropriate.
- 5.2 We may, at any time, prescribe such terms and conditions as we may deem appropriate in respect of any Currency Linked Investment and/or revise any of such terms and conditions, including the Base Currency, the Alternate Currency, the tenor, the minimum or maximum amounts which may be placed as the principal amount and the applicable interest rate in respect of such Currency Linked Investment.
- 5.3 Interest in respect of a Currency Linked Investment shall accrue on the principal amount, at such rate and on such basis as may be agreed between you and us, from the CLI Value Date up to but excluding the CLI Maturity Date.
- 5.4 The principal amount in respect of any Currency Linked Investment, together with interest accrued thereon, will be paid to you on the CLI Maturity Date in either the Base Currency or the Alternate Currency, depending on the level of the prevailing exchange rate between the Base Currency and the Alternate Currency against the Pre-Agreed Exchange Rate at the CLI Fixing Time, as determined by us in good faith. If such payment shall be made in the Alternate Currency, the principal amount and interest accrued thereon shall be converted into the Alternate Currency at the Pre-Agreed Exchange Rate.
- 5.5 Without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement and/or any Applicable Agreement, upon the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event, we shall be entitled to terminate any Currency Linked Investment. Upon such termination, we shall pay to you an amount as determined by us, in our absolute discretion, to be the fair market value of the Currency Linked Investment as at the date of termination less any Losses that may be suffered and/or incurred by us (including the costs of unwinding any related underlying hedge, realising any option, future contract or any other financial instrument). In this regard, you acknowledge that the fair market value of the Currency Linked Investment may be substantially less than the principal amount placed with us and we shall not be liable to you for any Losses that may be suffered and/or incurred by you in connection with or by reason of such termination.
- 5.6 All rates, fixings and values required for the purpose of calculating any amount payable to you, and all other matters to be ascertained or established in respect of any Currency Linked Investment, shall be conclusively determined by us in good faith and in accordance with the prevailing market practices. In the absence of any manifest error, any such determination shall be conclusive and binding on you. - 7.6 You shall have no interest, proprietary or otherwise, in any Commodity that may be held by us in physical form in connection with your Commodity Investments.
- 7.7 Subject to the provisions of this Agreement and/or any Applicable Agreement, you may, at any time, withdraw the cash value of any Commodity standing to the credit of your Commodity Investment Account by converting such Commodity into US Dollars or such other currency as may be agreed by us. Such conversions shall be effected at a rate of exchange to be determined by us, in our absolute discretion, based on the then prevailing exchange rate.
- 7.8 You acknowledge that the value of any Commodity standing to the credit of your Commodity Investment Account, as set out in any Account Statement and/or Transaction Record, is only an indication of the market value of such Commodity as at the applicable value date, and may differ from any amount you may receive upon a withdrawal of the cash value of such Commodity in accordance with Clause 7.7.
- 7.9 There shall be no yield or interest payable in respect of any Commodity standing to the credit of your Commodity Investment Account. All determinations and calculations required for any Commodity Investments based on any prevailing exchange rate will be made by us in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. In the absence of manifest error or fraud on our part, all such determinations and calculations will be conclusive and binding on you.

Each such Fiduciary Placement shall be placed in our name but for and on your behalf and at your sole risk and expense.
- 8.2 We may, in our absolute discretion, determine the Third Party Institution with which a Fiduciary Placement is placed.
- 8.3 Any Instruction for the placement and/or renewal of a Fiduciary Placement must be received by us no later than five (5) Business Days prior to the date of such placement and/or renewal. Such Instruction shall stipulate the tenor, currency and the amount of such Fiduciary Placement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if we do not receive any Instruction from you for the renewal of any Fiduciary Placement, we are authorised (but not obliged) to renew such Fiduciary Placement on such terms and conditions and for such tenor as we shall deem appropriate.
- 8.4 You acknowledge that a Fiduciary Placement may not be terminated prior to its maturity.
- 8.5 Unless otherwise instructed by you, we shall credit all sums received by us on your behalf from the Third Party Institution in respect of any Fiduciary Placement, less any applicable tax, fee, charge or expense incurred by us, to any Bank Account or make payment of such sums by any means that we consider appropriate. Save as aforesaid, we shall not be liable to repay to you any Fiduciary Placement or any amount otherwise accruing thereto.
- 8.6 For the avoidance of doubt, we shall not be regarded as a trustee of any Fiduciary Placement. In the event that any Third Party Institution does not, for any reason whatsoever, fulfil its obligations in respect of any Fiduciary Placement, our sole obligation is to assign all rights and claims which we hold on your behalf against such Third Party Institution to you. Without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement, we shall not be liable in any way for any Losses suffered or incurred by you in connection with any Fiduciary Placement.
- 8.7 You acknowledge that each Fiduciary Placement and/or the repayment thereof is subject to Applicable Laws, as well as the rules and the terms and conditions of the Third Party Institution with which such Fiduciary Placement is placed (which rules and terms and conditions may be amended from time to time in the absolute discretion of such Third Party Institution) and you agree to comply with all such Applicable Laws, rules and terms and conditions.

3. Without prejudice to Clause 22 of the Account Terms, we may effect any of your Securities Transactions through such Agents as we may select or otherwise as we deem appropriate. You further agree that we may prescribe such further terms and conditions as we consider necessary in relation to any Securities Transaction.
4. You acknowledge that acceptance by us of your Instruction in relation to any Securities Transaction will not necessarily result in its execution. Your Instruction will only be executed if (a) market conditions permit and (b) such execution is in accordance with all Applicable Laws. If we are unable to execute any Instruction, we will inform you as soon as reasonably practicable, whereupon such Instruction shall expire.
5. You agree that we may, at our absolute discretion (a) aggregate and consolidate any Instruction received from you in relation to any Securities Transaction with similar instructions received from other customers before communicating them to any Agent for execution and (b) to the extent permitted under Applicable Laws, allot or distribute the Securities purchased or sold arising from such consolidated instructions in any manner as we deem fit. You accept that such allotment or distribution or action by us may result in Losses to you and you accept the risk thereof as being for your account. In the event that the consolidated instructions are only partially executed, you agree that we shall be entitled to allocate fewer units of Securities to you than that as may be instructed by you.
6. Unless otherwise specified, all Securities Transactions undertaken on your Instructions shall be executed in our name and/or in the name of our Nominee. All such Securities purchased by you shall be held by us or our Nominee, as custodian for you, and shall be subject to the Custody Terms.
7. Initial Public Offerings and Private Placements of Securities

Unless we agree otherwise, each such Instruction shall be irrevocable.
 - 7.2 You acknowledge that unless required by Applicable Laws, we are under no obligation to provide you with the prospectus, information memorandum, application forms or other offering document relating to such initial public offering or a private placement of Securities (collectively, the "Offering Documents").  - 7.3 You shall ensure that you fulfill and comply fully with any investor requirements, conditions of subscription, selling and/or other restrictions specified in the Offering Documents.
 - 7.4 Where you have instructed us to subscribe for Securities on your behalf pursuant to any initial public offering or private placement of such Securities, you agree that you shall not make any other application for subscription of the same Securities, whether directly or through any agent or nominee.
 - 7.5 Where we are required to make certain representations and/or warranties on your behalf to other third parties in connection with such subscription of Securities, you shall ensure that each such representation and/or warranty shall be true, correct and not misleading in any way and you shall forthwith notify us in writing of any matter arising in the future which may render any such representation and warranty untrue, inaccurate or misleading in any way.
 - 7.6 You acknowledge that we are under no obligation to ensure the success of any application for subscription of Securities made on your behalf in any initial public offering or private placement. If any such application (or any part thereof) is successful, you agree that we may, subject to Applicable Laws, allocate the Securities allotted pursuant thereto to our customers in such manner as we deem appropriate and you shall be bound by any such allocation (notwithstanding that it may be fewer than the quantity you had instructed us to subscribe for).

8. In respect of each Securities Transaction undertaken on your Instructions, you shall ensure that all Applicable Laws (including any reporting and disclosure requirement and shareholding restriction) are strictly adhered to and complied with at all times and you agree that we need not enquire into or verify any action taken by you in connection therewith. You further warrant and represent that your entry into each Securities Transaction does not contravene any Applicable Law, including Applicable Laws relating to insider dealing, market manipulation and/or any other trading offences.

For subscriptions into initial public offerings, typically the issuers or the relevant exchanges will impose restrictions or prohibitions on investors who are directors or existing shareholders of issuers or their close associates, or who are connected persons/ clients to the issuer group. Without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement, you authorise us to debit any Bank Account for all such Liability as may be payable by you to us or for any payment in connection with any Securities Transaction.
11. Failure to deliver Securities or make payment of Liabilities
 - 11.1 When giving Instructions to us for the sale of any Securities, you shall ensure that the relevant Securities shall be delivered to or deposited with us or our Nominee by such date as may be notified by us to you and that you are entitled to sell and deliver such Securities to the purchaser on the due date for settlement. If the Securities are not delivered to or deposited with us or our Nominee by the date as notified by us to you, you acknowledge and agree that we shall, subject to Applicable Laws, have the right to purchase and/or borrow such number of Securities as is equivalent to the number of Securities sold by you, at such time and on such terms as we think fit, for the purpose of effecting such delivery.
 - 11.2 You acknowledge and agree that if payment of any Liability under these Securities Terms, including payment for the purchase of any Securities, is not made by the due date of such payment, we shall have the right to force sell all or any of such unpaid Securities at any time and in any manner as we think fit and set off the proceeds thereof against all or part of such Liability.
 - 11.3 Any Losses suffered or incurred by us as a result of any action taken by us pursuant to this Clause 10, including any Losses suffered or incurred as a result of any fluctuation in the market price of the Securities, shall be a debt due from you to us repayable forthwith on demand but any profit or gain made shall be forfeited to us and you shall have no claim in respect thereof.  - (c) be receiving from any Agent charges, commissions, fees, rebates, discounts or other payments or benefits and you agree that we or our Affiliate (as the case may be) may retain any such payments or benefits and shall be under no obligation to account for or disclose the same to you except to the extent required by Applicable Laws; and
 - (d) have a direct or indirect material interest in any such Securities Transaction.
13. Without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement, you acknowledge that we may, from time to time, have to accept sole and principal responsibility to any broker (notwithstanding that between you and us, we act as your agent). You further acknowledge that by reason of the foregoing, the Securities purchased may be regarded by the broker as being Securities purchased by us for our own account and this may result in prejudice to you.

 - (e) where we and/or our Nominee are required to provide any representation and warranty to the Fund or any Fund Representative on your behalf, you shall ensure that each such representation and warranty shall be true, accurate and not misleading as if the same is provided by you and you shall forthwith notify us in writing of any matter arising in the future which may render any such representation and warranty untrue, inaccurate or misleading in any way.
- 5.4 You agree that we and/or our Nominee may aggregate and consolidate your orders for the acquisition of any Fund Investment with orders received from other customers, either daily or from time to time, before transmitting such aggregated order to the Fund or the Fund Representative.
- 5.5 You acknowledge and agree that, to the extent permitted under Applicable Laws, we may, in our absolute discretion, allot or distribute any Fund Investment issued to us pursuant to such aggregated order amongst you and other customers in any manner as we may deem appropriate and you shall be bound by any such allotment or distribution (notwithstanding that it may be less than the number of units specified in your order). 10. Sale, Transfer and Disgorgement

- 10.1 Where, under the terms of the China Connect Rules, the Bank receives notice (a "Forced-sale Notice") from a China Connect Authority requiring the Bank to sell and liquidate a specified number of China Connect Securities, the Bank shall be entitled to issue a corresponding notice (a "Client Forced-sale Notice") to the Customer requesting the Customer to sell and liquidate any number of such China Connect Securities that the Customer holds in its account with the Bank (as determined by the Bank in its sole discretion) within the time period specified by the relevant China Connect Authority, and the Customer undertakes to comply with any such Client Forced-sale Notice.

- 10.2 In relation to any Forced-sale Notice, the Customer authorises the Bank to sell or arrange for the sale of such China Connect Securities on its behalf at such price and on such terms as the Bank may determine in its absolute discretion if it fails to comply with a Client Forced-sale Notice in a timely manner, to the extent necessary to comply with all China Connect Laws and China Connect Rules.
- 10.3 Where China Connect Securities owned by the Customer that are the subject of a Client Forced-sale Notice have been transferred from the Clearing Participant that settled the relevant Northbound buy order (the "Original CP") to another Clearing Participant or custodian (the "Recipient Agent"), the Customer authorises the Bank to provide instructions to the Recipient Agent on its behalf to return the relevant China Connect Securities to the Original CP for sale and liquidation in accordance with all China Connect Laws and China Connect Rules. The Customer also undertakes to inform the Recipient Agent of such authorisation and, where required, the Customer undertakes to instruct the Recipient Agent to act accordingly.
- 10.4 The Customer authorises the Bank to sell or arrange for the sale of any quantity of China Connect Securities owned by the Customer if the Bank receives notice from any China Connect Authority requiring it to disgorge any profits as a result of the "short swing profit rule", as more fully described under paragraph 21 (Short Swing Profit Rule) of Part B of these China Connect Terms.
- 10.5 In addition to the above, the Customer authorises the Bank to sell, transfer or carry out any other action in relation to China Connect Securities owned by the Customer if the Bank is instructed to do so by any China Connect Authority or if the Bank otherwise determines in its absolute discretion that it is necessary or desirable to do so in order to comply with any China Connect Laws or China Connect Rules.
- 10.6 The Bank shall have no liability for any losses or risks which may result to the Customer directly or indirectly from any actions taken by the Bank under this Clause.

11. Fees and Taxation

- 11.1 The Bank shall be entitled in its absolute discretion, without further notice or demand, forthwith to satisfy any obligation of the Bank or the Customer to pay or account for any amounts in respect of any Taxes by selling, realising or otherwise dealing with, in such manner as the Bank in its absolute discretion may determine, all or part of any of the Customer's property held by the Bank for any purpose in any of its accounts, and to apply the proceeds in reduction of all or part of its liability to any tax authority or the Bank.
- 11.2 The Customer is responsible for paying all fees, charges, levies and taxes, and the Customer undertakes that it will comply with any filing or registration obligations, in each case as may be required under any China Connect Laws or China Connect Rules relating to any China Connect Securities and any dividends or entitlements in respect of such China Connect Securities.
- 11.3 Notwithstanding any other provision in these China Connect Terms, the Bank shall not be responsible for and shall have no liability to the Customer for any damage, liability or loss (including loss of profit) which may result directly or indirectly from any actions taken by the Bank under this Clause unless such damage, liability or loss is a direct result of the Bank's fraud, wilful default or negligence.

12. Indemnity

In addition and without prejudice to any of the Bank's rights under this Agreement, including without limitation Clause 9.3 above, the Customer will indemnify the Bank on a full indemnity basis against any claims, demands, actions, proceedings, damages, costs, expenses, losses and all other liabilities whatsoever arising directly or indirectly from the Bank providing any services to the Customer in respect of its trading or investment in China Connect Securities, including, without limitation, to (a) any Taxes resulting from any trading of China Connect Securities pursuant to China Connect; (b) the materialisation of any risk referred to in Part B hereof; (c) any legal costs which the Bank may incur in connection with any instruction given by the Customer; or (d) any costs incurred in connection with Clause 10 (Sale, Transfer and Disgorgement) above, in each case other than those claims, demands, actions, proceedings, damages, costs, expenses, losses and liabilities which are a direct result of the Bank's fraud, wilful default or negligence.

13. Payments in respect of China Connect Securities

All sums payable by the Customer under this Agreement shall be paid or accounted for free and clear of any tax (including goods and services and value added tax), levy, duty, charge, impost, fee, interest, penalty, deduction or withholding (collectively the "taxes") of any nature now or hereafter imposed, withheld or assessed by any taxing or other authority. If the Customer is required by any law or regulation to make any deduction or withholding on account of any taxes from any such sums payable by it, the Customer shall, together with such sums, immediately pay or account for such additional amount as will ensure that the Bank receives or is credited (free and clear of the taxes) the full amount which the Bank would have received or been credited if no such deduction or withholding had been required. Upon the Bank's request, the Customer will promptly forward to the Bank copies of official receipts or other evidence showing that the full amount of any such deduction or withholding has been paid over to the relevant taxing or other authority.

14. Miscellaneous

- 14.1 The Customer will provide to the Bank all information (including translations into Chinese, if required) which the Bank requests if such information is requested by an exchange, regulatory authority or an organisation (whether within or outside Hong Kong) with which HKEx or SEHK has entered into an information sharing arrangement or agreement. The Customer acknowledges that, the Customer's failure to comply with this provision may, among other things, result in the suspension of China Connect Service to it.
- 14.2 The Customer will execute any further documents and provide any materials and/or information as the Bank may reasonably request to enable the Bank to perform its duties and obligations under these China Connect Terms which may become necessary as and when the China Connect Rules are amended from time to time.
- 14.3 The Bank reserves the right at its discretion to review, add to, alter, vary or modify all or any of these China Connect Terms by giving written notice to the Customer in accordance with the Account Terms.

15. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

- 15.1 The parties agree that the governing law and jurisdiction clauses in the Account Terms shall also apply to these China Connect Terms.

Section II: Risk Disclosures and Other Information

This Part describes some of the key risk factors and other information concerning China Connect. This Part does not disclose all the risks and other significant aspects of Northbound trading through China Connect. You acknowledge that you understand the nature and risks of China Connect and Northbound trading and you have considered carefully (and have consulted your own advisers where necessary) whether trading in China Connect Securities is suitable for you in light of your circumstances. The decision to trade in China Connect Securities is yours, and you have fully understood and are willing to assume the risks associated with China Connect and are able to comply with all relevant China Connect Laws and China Connect Rules. You acknowledge the risks and agree to the terms set out in these China Connect Terms.

You understand the Bank does not represent that the information set out in this Part is up to date or comprehensive and does not undertake to update the information set out in this Part. You are responsible for monitoring changes in the China Connect Laws and China Connect Rules and complying with any new requirements.

THIS IS NOT AN EXHAUSTIVE LIST OF ALL THE RISKS AND OTHER SIGNIFICANT ASPECTS OF ANY TRANSACTION. THE BANK RECOMMENDS THAT YOU OBTAIN ALL RELATED TERMS AND CONDITIONS AND CAREFULLY STUDY AND EVALUATE THE SAME AND CONSULT YOUR OWN LEGAL, TAX AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS OR OTHER PROFESSIONAL ADVISORS AS APPROPRIATE

Home Market Rules

1. Home Market Rules

As Mainland China is the home market of China Connect Securities, the SSE Rules and/or SZSE Rules (as the case may be) and other Mainland China securities laws and regulations shall apply to you. If such rules and regulations are breached, the relevant China Connect Market has the power to carry out an investigation.

Nevertheless, certain Hong Kong legal and regulatory requirements will also continue to apply to Northbound trading.

Trading and Settlement Restrictions

2. Pre-Trade Checking

SEHK is required to check that, in respect of any Northbound sell orders given by an Exchange Participant, the relevant Exchange Participant holds sufficient available China Connect Securities to be able to fill such Northbound sell orders by the commencement of trading on the Trading Day you wish to execute. Otherwise, you may be unable to execute Northbound sell orders due to Pre-Trade Checking related requirements.

You shall bear any risk, loss, cost or expenses resulting from non compliance or potential non-compliance with Pre-Trade Checking and/or the relevant China Connect Laws or China Connect Rules and/or the above actions taken by the Bank.

3. Settlement

Northbound trades will follow the A Shares settlement cycle. For settlement of China Connect Securities trades, ChinaClear will debit or credit the securities accounts of its participants (including HKSCC as clearing participant) on T day free of payment and settlement of funds relating to such trading will be effected on T+1 day. Title to China Connect Securities will not be released until the receipt of confirmation of payment. Accordingly, for purposes of contract notes, the settlement date would be T+1 day when both the securities and the cash are settled. You understand that, until the Bank has enhanced its trading system, stock and money settlements of China Connect Securities may only be reflected in your account on T+1 (as opposed to T for stock and T+1 for money settlements respectively). This system issue, however, will not affect the time at which title to China Connect Securities will be transferred to investors on T+1.

4. Quota Restrictions

Purchases of China Connect Securities are subject to daily quota controls. As a result, there is no assurance that a buy order can be successfully placed through China Connect. Any instruction to buy that has been submitted but not yet executed may be restricted or rejected.

SEHK and the relevant China Connect Market may also set pricing and other restrictions on buy orders in order to prevent the artificial use or filling of the applicable quotas.

5. Restriction on Day Trading

Day (turnaround) trading is not permitted on the Mainland China A Shares market.

6. No off-exchange trading and transfers

Unless otherwise provided by the CSRC, you understand that the Bank shall not, with certain limited exceptions, trade or provide services to facilitate trading of any China Connect Securities through any venue other than through the China Connect Market System, and the Bank shall not match, execute or arrange the execution of any sale and purchase instructions or any transfer instructions from you in respect of any China Connect Securities in any manner otherwise than through China Connect in accordance with the China Connect Rules.

7. Placing Orders

Only limit orders with a specified price are allowed pursuant to China Connect Laws and China Connect Rules, where buy orders must not be lower than the current best price and sell orders may be executed at or higher than the specified price. Market orders will not be accepted.

8. China Connect Market Price Limits

China Connect Securities are subject to a general price limit of a range of percentages based on the previous trading day's closing price. The price limit may be changed from time to time. All orders in respect of China Connect Securities must be within the price limit and any orders with a price beyond the price limit will be rejected by the relevant China Connect Market.

9. Restrictions on selling China Connect Securities

You are prohibited from using China Connect Securities purchased through China Connect to settle any sell orders placed through channels other than China Connect. Accordingly, there may be a limited market and/or lower liquidity for China Connect Securities purchased through China Connect (as compared to the same shares purchased through other channels). In addition, any scrip entitlements received by you in respect of China Connect Securities may not be eligible for trading through China Connect. Accordingly, there is a risk of low/no liquidity for such shares received by way of scrip entitlement.

10. Delisting of companies listed on a China Connect Market

According to the SSE Listing Rules and the SZSE Listing Rules, if any SSE-listed company or SZSE-listed company (as the case may be) is in the delisting process, or its operation is unstable due to financial or other reasons such that there is a risk of being delisted or exposing your interest to undue damage, the SSE-listed company or SZSE-listed company (as the case may be) will be earmarked and traded on the "risk alert board". Any change to the risk alert board may occur without prior notice. You understand that you will only be allowed to sell such shares and are restricted from further buying.

11. Account Information of Beneficial Owner

You understand that your identity as the beneficial owner of China Connect Securities which are the subject of a sell order may need to be disclosed to HKSCC and/or relevant Mainland China authorities.

12. Scripless Securities

China Connect Securities are traded in scripless form and accordingly, China Connect Securities may not be physically deposited into and/or withdrawn from CCASS.

13. Short Selling

Covered short selling of China Connect Securities may be available provided such covered short selling satisfies the requirements specified by the relevant China Connect Authorities. However naked short selling of China Connect Securities is prohibited. You are fully responsible for understanding and complying with short selling requirements as amended from time to time and for any consequences of non-compliance.

14. Amendment of Orders and Loss of Priority

Consistent with the current practice in Mainland China, if you wish to amend an order, you must first cancel the original order and then input a new one. Accordingly, order priority will be lost and, subject to the daily quota restrictions, the subsequent order may not be filled on the same Trading Day.

15. Warning Statements

You understand that SEHK may require the Bank

- (a) to issue warning statements to you; and/or
- (b) to cease to extend the China Connect Service to you.

16. Special China Connect Securities

You understand that SEHK will accept or designate securities which cease to meet the eligibility criteria for China Connect Securities as Special China Connect Securities (provided that they remain listed on the relevant China Connect Market). In addition, any securities or options (which are not already accepted as China Connect Securities) received by you as a result of any distribution of rights or entitlements, conversion, takeover, other corporate actions or abnormal trading activities will be accepted or designated by SEHK as Special China Connect Securities. You understand that you will only be able to sell, but not buy, any Special China Connect Securities.

17. Margin Trading

Subject to certain conditions prescribed by the China Connect Authorities, you may only conduct margin trading in certain China Connect Securities as determined by the relevant China Connect Authorities to be eligible for margin trading from time to time. A China Connect Market may suspend margin trading activities in any specific China Connect Security where the volume of margin trading activities in such China Connect Security exceeds certain thresholds and may resume margin trading activities when the volume drops below a prescribed threshold. The Bank shall not have any obligation to update you in respect of the list of eligible margin trading securities or any restrictions or suspensions in respect of margin trading from time to time.

18. Rights Issuances

Where you receive as entitlements shares or other types of securities from the issuer of a China Connect Security, whether you can buy and/or sell the entitlement security through China Connect will depend on a number of factors including whether the entitlement security is a China Connect Security, whether or not it is traded in RMB and whether or not HKSCC has put in place arrangements enabling you to do so.

19. Odd Lot Trading

Odd lot trading in China Connect Securities is available only for sell orders and all odd lots must be sold in one single order. A board lot order may be matched with different odd lot sell orders, resulting in odd lot trades. Board lot and odd lot orders are matched on the same platform on China Connect and subject to the same share price. The maximum order size is 1 million shares and the tick size is uniformly set at RMB0.01.

20. Disclosure of Interests

If you hold or control shares on an aggregate basis in a Mainland China Listco above a certain threshold, you may have to disclose such interest within the period specified by the relevant China Connect Authority, and you must not buy or sell any such shares within a specified period. You may also have to disclose any substantial change in your holdings.

At the same time, you may have to comply with disclosure obligations under Part XV of the SFO.

21. Short Swing Profit Rule

Under Mainland China laws, rules and regulations, the “short swing profit rule” requires you to return any profits made from purchases and sales in respect of China Connect Securities of a Mainland China Listco if (a) your shareholding in the Mainland China Listco exceeds the threshold prescribed by the relevant China Connect Authority from time to time; and (b) the corresponding sale transaction occurs within the six months after a purchase transaction, or vice versa. You will comply with the “short swing profit rule”.

22. Foreign Ownership Limits

Mainland China foreign ownership limits on the number of shares a foreign investor is permitted to hold in a single Mainland China Listco and on the maximum combined holdings of all foreign investors in a single Mainland China Listco may have an adverse effect on the liquidity and performance of an investment in China Connect Securities. As a result, you may suffer losses in China Connect Securities.

You understand that if the Bank becomes aware that you have breached (or reasonably believe that you may breach upon execution of further Northbound buy orders) any foreign ownership limits, or if the Bank is so required by any China Connect Authority, including without limitation to any Forced-sale Notice issued by the relevant China Connect Market, the Bank will sell any China Connect Securities pursuant to Clause 10 (Sale, Transfer and Disgorgement) in Section I of these China Connect Terms if you fail to comply with the corresponding Client Forced-sale Notice in order to ensure compliance with all China Connect Laws and China Connect Rules. In such case, no China Connect Securities buy orders for the relevant China Connect Securities will be accepted until the relevant China Connect Market informs the corresponding SEHK Subsidiary or SEHK that the aggregate foreign shareholding has fallen below a certain percentage. SEHK may determine in its absolute discretion which Exchange Participants and what quantity of China Connect Securities should be subject to a Forced-sale Notice (this will generally be on a “last-in, first-out” basis), and SEHK’s (or the relevant SEHK Subsidiary’s) own records shall be final and conclusive.

Moreover, under Mainland China laws, where foreign investors hold in aggregate more than a specified percentage (the “Cautionary Level”) of the issued shares of a single Mainland China Listco, upon notification by the relevant China Connect Market to the corresponding SEHK Subsidiary, SEHK and the relevant SEHK Subsidiary are required as soon as practicable thereafter to suspend accepting China Connect Securities buy orders in respect of the relevant China Connect Securities. In such circumstances, the Bank may reject your buy orders until the aggregate shareholding of foreign investors is reduced to below the specified percentage (the “Permitted Level”) as advised by the relevant China Connect Market.

23. Taxation

You will be fully responsible for any Taxes in respect of China Connect Securities including, without limitation, any Mainland China taxes, and will indemnify the Bank from and against all Taxes which the Bank may incur arising in connection with any China Connect Securities which you hold, trade or otherwise deal in.

You understand and agree that the Bank assumes no responsibility for advising on or handling any tax issues, liabilities and/or obligations in connection with China Connect, nor will the Bank provide any service or assistance in this regard. Prior to investing in China Connect Securities, you understand that you should consult your own tax advisers and counsel with respect to the possible tax consequences to you of such investment since such tax consequences may differ in respect of different investors.

24. Insider Dealing, Market Manipulation and Other Market Conduct Rules

Northbound trading through the China Connect will be subject to Mainland China laws and regulations prohibiting activities that constitute market manipulation, insider dealing and related offences. The scope of these restrictions may not be the same as equivalent requirements under Hong Kong law. In particular, defences applicable under Hong Kong market misconduct rules may not be applicable under Mainland China laws and regulations. You understand that you should seek specialist advice before engaging in trading through China Connect.

25. Client Securities Rules and Client Identity Rules

You understand that as the China Connect Securities traded through China Connect are not listed or traded on SEHK, you will not have protection either under the Client Securities Rules nor under the Client Identity Rules.

26. Investor Compensation Fund

You understand that, in trading China Connect Securities, you will not enjoy the protection afforded by any investor compensation fund, whether established under the SFO or otherwise.

27. Ownership of China Connect Securities

You acknowledge that (i) you should conduct your own review of the materials published by HKEx on China Connect in relation to the ownership of China Connect Securities and the applicable China Connect Rules as they may be amended and supplemented from time to time; and (ii) you should also consult your own legal advisers to make your own assessment of your rights as a Northbound investor in China Connect Securities.

Under the rules of CCASS, HKSCC is prepared to provide assistance to the beneficial owners of China Connect Securities where necessary. HKEx notes that any beneficial owner who decides to take legal action is responsible for seeking its own independent legal advice to satisfy itself and HKSCC that a cause of action exists and the beneficial owner should be prepared to conduct the action and take up all costs in relation to the action, including providing HKSCC with indemnities and legal representation in proceedings. Further details are set out in the HKEx published materials.

28. Stock lending and borrowing

Stock borrowing and lending of China Connect Securities will be permitted only in certain circumstances. Restrictions on the duration of stock loans and record keeping requirements may apply.

Clearing house Risk

29. Risk of ChinaClear Default

If ChinaClear defaults, HKSCC may, but has no obligation to, take any legal action or court proceedings to seek recovery of outstanding China Connect Securities and monies from ChinaClear. If it does so, HKSCC will distribute the China Connect Securities and/or monies recovered to clearing participants on a pro-rata basis as prescribed by the relevant China Connect Authorities. The Bank in turn will only be distributing the China Connect Securities and/or monies to the extent recovered directly or indirectly from HKSCC. Although the likelihood of a default by ChinaClear is considered to be remote, you understand that you should be aware of this arrangement and of this potential exposure before engaging in Northbound trading.

30. Risk of HKSCC Default

The Bank's provision of services pursuant to these China Connect Terms also depends upon the performance by HKSCC of its obligations. Any action or inaction of the HKSCC or a failure or delay by the HKSCC in the performance of its obligations may result in a failure of settlement of China Connect Securities and/or monies in connection with it and you may suffer losses as a result. The Bank shall have no responsibility or liability for any such losses.

31. Company Announcements on Corporate Actions

You understand that you should refer to the website of the relevant China Connect Market and the relevant newspapers for the latest listed company announcements or, alternatively, the HKEx website's page entitled "China Stock Markets Web" (or such other replacement or successor page from time to time) for corporate actions in respect of China Connect Securities. You understand that SSE-listed and/or SZSE-listed issuers (as the case may be) publish corporate documents in Chinese only, and English translations will not be available.

In addition, HKSCC will endeavour to collect and distribute cash dividends relating to China Connect Securities to Clearing Participants participating in China Connect in a timely manner.

Unlike the current practice in Hong Kong in respect of SEHK-listed shares, you understand that you may not be able to attend meetings by proxy or in person.

You understand the Bank does not and cannot ensure the accuracy, reliability or timeliness of any company announcements of corporate actions and accepts no liability (whether in tort or contract or otherwise) for any loss or damage arising from any errors, inaccuracies, delays or omissions or any actions taken in reliance thereon. You understand the Bank has expressly disclaimed all warranties, expressed or implied, as to the accuracy of any company announcement or as to the fitness of the information for any purpose.

32. Disclosure of Information and Publication of Trade Information

You understand that SEHK may require the Bank to provide information on your identity, profile, and the type and value of your orders in relation to Northbound trading of China Connect Securities and the trades which the Bank executed for you at such intervals and in such form as SEHK may specify from time to time for purposes of their publication, dissemination or public distribution of aggregated information in respect of China Connect Securities trades under China Connect, trading volumes, investor profiles and other related data. SEHK may forward such information to the relevant China Connect Market for surveillance and investigation purposes.

33. Client Error

You understand that the Bank will not be liable for any loss, damage or expense or consequential loss, damage or expense suffered by you as a result of any trading based on your instructions. The Bank will not be able to unwind any trade, and you should also take note of the settlement arrangements in respect of China Connect Securities under China Connect, including but not limited to quota restrictions which may affect your ability to mitigate the consequences of any error trades. The Bank shall have no liability for any losses which may result directly or indirectly from such error trades.

The Bank shall have absolute discretion to determine whether to conduct any transfer to rectify any error trade and shall have no obligation to do so. The Bank shall have no liability for any losses which may result directly or indirectly from such error trades or any refusal to conduct a transfer to correct an error trade.

34. Retention of Information

You acknowledge and accept that the Bank will be required under the China Connect Rules to keep records in relation to Northbound trading for a period of not less than 20 years.

35. China Connect Market System

The China Connect Market System is a platform for trading of China Connect Securities under China Connect. The Bank is not responsible for any delay or failure caused by any China Connect Market System and you accept all risks arising from trading China Connect Securities through any China Connect Market System. You understand that the Bank shall not be responsible or held liable for any loss or damage directly or indirectly suffered by you arising from or in connection with the China Connect Service or the CSC through Northbound trading including, without limitation, the following:

- (a) a suspension, restriction or cessation of the China Connect Service or the CSC, or any inability to access or use the CSC or the China Connect Service;

- (b) any special arrangement put in place or any action, step or measure taken or not taken to deal with an emergency, including but not limited to the cancellation of any or all China Connect orders input by Exchange Participants;
- (c) any suspension, delay, interruption or cessation of trading of any China Connect Securities;
- (d) any delay, suspension, interruption of trading or of any order cancellation in respect of China Connect Securities as a result of the hoisting of a Typhoon Signal No. 8 or above or the issuance of the Black Rainstorm Warning in Hong Kong;
- (e) any delay or failure to route any China Connect orders, any delay or failure to send any order cancellation requests or to provide the China Connect Service due to any system, communication or connection failure, power outage, software or hardware malfunction or events beyond the control of the Bank or SEHK;
- (f) in the event that a China Connect order which a China Connect Exchange Participant has requested to be cancelled is not cancelled for any reason whatsoever;
- (g) in the event that SEHK or the relevant China Connect Market requires that the Bank reject any order for China Connect Services;
- (h) any delay, failure or error of any China Connect Market System or any system upon which the relevant SEHK Subsidiary is reliant in providing the China Connect Service; and
- (i) any delay or failure to execute, or any error in matching or executing any, China Connect order due to reasons beyond the control of the Bank, SEHK, HKEx or the relevant SEHK Subsidiary including, but not limited to, any action or decision taken or made, or not taken or made, by a China Connect Market, any China Connect Authority or a relevant governmental or regulatory body.

If there is any delay or failure to send any order cancellation requests in the circumstances described in paragraph (e) above, you shall, in the event that the order is matched and executed, remain responsible to the Bank for any settlement obligations in respect of such order.

36. Operational Hours

SEHK has absolute discretion to determine from time to time the operational hours of the China Connect Service, and will have absolute discretion to change the operational hours and arrangements of the China Connect Service, whether on a temporary basis or otherwise, at any time and without advance notice.

37. RMB Conversion and RMB Risks

If you belong to certain counterparty types (such as an individual) in certain jurisdictions that are subject to currency conversion restrictions, (as required by the relevant authority from time to time) any conversion of any currency into RMB pursuant to Clause 9 (Settlement and Currency Conversion) of Part A of these China Connect Terms is subject to any applicable daily maximum conversion limit. Settlement of a Northbound buy order may be delayed and/or fail if there is a delay in converting the relevant currency into RMB. Any risk, loss or cost resulting from any such delay or failure of settlement shall be borne by you.

There are also significant restrictions on the remittance of RMB into and out of Mainland China. If the issuer of the RMB securities is not able to remit RMB to Hong Kong or make distributions in RMB due to exchange controls or other restrictions, the issuer may make distributions (including dividends and other payments) in other currencies. You may therefore be exposed to additional foreign exchange risk and liquidity exposures.

The liquidity and trading price of China Connect Securities may be adversely affected by the limited availability of RMB outside Mainland China and the restrictions on the conversion of RMB. These factors may affect the amount of liquidity in RMB and accordingly adversely affect the market demand for China Connect Securities.

38. Other risks associated with investing in China Connect Securities

ChiNext Shares

ChiNext Shares involve a high investment risk. In particular, profitability and other financial requirements for listing on the ChiNext Board are less stringent than the Main Board and the SME Board of the SZSE.

Companies listed on the ChiNext Board may include enterprises in the innovation and technology sector as well as other start-up and/or growth enterprises with smaller operating scale and share capital. Stock prices may also be more susceptible to manipulation due to fewer circulating shares. Accordingly, the ChiNext Shares may be very volatile and illiquid. In addition, current information on such companies may be limited and may not be widely available.

It may be more common and easier for companies listed on the ChiNext Board to be delisted. The ChiNext Shares may become very illiquid after delisting. You acknowledge that you may suffer a total loss of your investment in the event of a delisting.

You acknowledge that you should seek independent professional advice if you are uncertain of or have not understood any aspect of this Section II or the nature and risks involved in holding or disposal of ChiNext Shares.

General Mainland China related risk

Mainland China is an emerging market that possesses one or more of the following characteristics: a certain degree of political instability, relatively unpredictable financial markets and economic growth patterns, a financial market that is still at the development stage or a weak economy. Emerging markets investments usually result in higher risks such as event risk, political risk, economic risk, credit risk, currency rate risk, market risk, liquidity/gapping risk, regulatory/legal risk, trade settlement, processing and clearing risks and bondholder/shareholder risk.

Equity risk

Investing in China Connect Securities may offer a higher rate of return than investing in short term and longer term debt securities. However, you understand that the risks associated with investments in China Connect Securities may also be higher, because the investment performance of China Connect Securities depends upon factors which are difficult to predict. Such factors include the possibility of sudden or prolonged market declines and risks associated with individual companies. The fundamental risk associated with any equity portfolio is the risk that the value of the investments it holds might suddenly and substantially decrease.

General legal and regulatory risk

You will comply with all China Connect Laws and China Connect Rules. Furthermore, you understand that any change in any China Connect Laws or China Connect Rules may have an impact on the market sentiment which may in turn affect the performance of China Connect Securities. You understand that it is impossible to predict whether such an impact caused by any such change will be positive or negative for China Connect Securities. You understand that in the worst case scenario, you may lose a material part of your investments in China Connect Securities.

The Bank shall not be liable or responsible to you for any Losses arising out of or in connection with loss of use of your Digital Token Account or the Digital Token Services in such circumstances.

1.4 Instructions

In addition to and without prejudice to any other provision in this Agreement, the Bank may in our absolute discretion and without assigning any reason whatsoever, refuse to act on any Instruction or Order.

The dealing team receiving trading instructions may accept, without verification, all such instructions and shall be under no duty to inquire into the authenticity of any instructions or the identity or authority of the person giving or purporting to give such instructions.

When giving instructions, you shall clearly identify the Account through which the Transaction is to be undertaken, by specifying the name of the account holder and the account number.

You acknowledge that instructions given through the dealing team should not be regarded as having been executed unless and until you receive confirmation from the Bank of the same.

Information relating to the Account would be set out in official statements from the Bank, and any other information provided upon your request may not be accurate or up-to-date as transactions may have been undertaken by you through your relationship manager, investment counsellor or other means without the relevant entry being made in time; accordingly, the data or information provided is not binding except where it is expressly stated as such.

1.5 Your Undertakings, Representations and Warranties

- (a) In addition to and without prejudice to any undertaking, representations and warranties you provide under this Agreement, you hereby undertake, represent and warrant to us that:
- (i) any Digital Tokens which you deliver or cause to be delivered to the Bank are not related to any activity in contravention of any Applicable Laws, including those pertaining to the prevention of fraud, money laundering, terrorism financing and the provision of financial or other services to any person or entity which may be subjected to sanctions;
 - (ii) all payments received or made and Digital Tokens deposited, traded or withdrawn do not represent and/or relate to, or facilitate, the retention or control of proceeds, property, funds or investments derived from or used in connection with fraud, money laundering, terrorism financing and/or sanctioned activities;
 - (iii) you will not use the Digital Token Services, issue or cause to be issued any Instructions, or use or carry out any activities in relation to the Digital Tokens or your Digital Token Account, in a manner that could cause or result in a violation by the Bank or any other entity in the DBS Group of any Applicable Laws, including those pertaining to the prevention of fraud, money laundering, terrorism financing and the provision of financial or other services to any person or entity which may be subjected to sanctions;
 - (iv) in entering into any Digital Token Transactions, you shall make your own assessment based on your financial needs and investment objectives, rely on your own judgement in relation to any investment in Digital Tokens and shall not rely on any oral or written representation made by the Bank or any person on its behalf;
 - (v) all information and documents provided to the Bank are true and accurate in all respects;
 - (vi) you will execute all documents and instruments, and will do all acts and things as may be required by the Bank in connection with the provision, opening, operation, maintenance, administration and management of your Digital Token Account and the submission and execution of Digital Token Orders;
 - (vii) you will provide the Bank, in a timely manner, with information and proof as the Bank reasonably requests, as to your tax status or residence. Information and proof may include, as appropriate, executing certificates, making representations and warranties, or providing other information or documents, as the Bank deems necessary or proper to fulfil obligations under Applicable Laws;
 - (viii) you and your Authorised Agents are not U.S. Persons; and

- (ix) you qualify as an accredited investor or institutional investor under the Securities and Futures Act and in addition, where applicable, any class of investor equivalent thereto under the laws or regulations of any other jurisdiction which would allow: (a) you to trade on the Trading System; and (b) Digital Tokens to be offered to or traded with you without giving rise to any obligation on the offeror or trading counterparty to publish or register a prospectus, registration statement or any similar document, or take any other steps or actions in connection with the offer of the Digital Tokens to you.
- (b) Each of the undertakings, warranties and representations set out in this Clause 1.5 shall continue to have full force and effect for so long as this Agreement remain in force and shall be deemed to be repeated by you each time you utilise any Digital Token Service or undertake any Digital Token Transaction.
- (c) You agree and undertake to immediately inform the Bank in writing if any of the undertakings, warranties and representations set out in this Clause 1.5 or in this Agreement become untrue or inaccurate in any respect.

1.6 Extraordinary Event

In addition to and without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement, upon the occurrence of any Extraordinary Event, we may in our absolute discretion determine any adjustment or action necessary in relation to any of your Digital Token Transactions, your Digital Token Account and/or the Digital Token Services. Such adjustments or actions may include altering or varying the quantities of currencies and/or Digital Tokens or the exchange rates or specifications of currencies and/or Digital Tokens bought or sold pursuant to any Digital Token Transaction, terminating any Digital Token Transaction, or making payments, or converting the currency of your Accounts, in or to a currency which is a freely transferable currency at that time, at such rate of exchange as we may, in good faith, deem appropriate, and you agree to be bound by such adjustment or action.

1.7 Fees and Expenses

Without prejudice to this Agreement:

- (a) you agree to pay all fees, commissions and other charges and expenses in connection with your Digital Token Account, the Digital Token Services and the Digital Token Transactions under these Digital Token Terms as specified in our published fees and benefits schedule in force at the relevant time, together with any other amounts payable to the Bank under these Digital Token Terms;
- (b) you acknowledge that whenever a Digital Payment Token transaction is effected, there are costs involved. Digital Payment Token transactions are typically effected over a public blockchain and while different Digital Payment Tokens apply different methodologies to compute the cost of confirming transactions, the general rule of thumb is that a greater network load will increase transaction costs. By entering into any Digital Payment Token transaction, you acknowledge and agree to bear such and all related costs. Due to operational or system constraints, certain charges or expenses incurred by the Bank on your behalf and/or charged to your account (e.g. gas/mining fees) may be rounded up to a decimal place or to an amount that marginally exceeds the actual charges or expenses incurred;
- (c) the Bank may debit any of your Accounts to pay any fees, commissions and other charges and expenses imposed or incurred by the Bank (including blockchain transaction fees, charges, costs and expenses (such as mining fees, network fees or gas), as well as taxes, duties or disbursements) in connection with your Digital Token Account, the Digital Token Services and the Digital Token Transactions under these Digital Token Terms, together with any other amounts payable to the Bank under these Digital Token Terms;
- (d) in addition to and without prejudice to our other rights (whether under this Agreement or otherwise), the Bank reserves the right to charge interest on overdue amounts from the due date until actual payment at such rate as the Bank customarily charges for similar overdue amounts; and
- (e) you will maintain or make available sufficient cleared funds in order to cover the Bank's fees, commissions, charges and expenses as aforesaid and to enable us to fulfil our duties under these Digital Token Terms.

Any and all payments to the Bank shall be made in full without any deductions, and exclusive of any goods and services tax or other similar sales taxes. You will be responsible for the payment of any and all such taxes arising.

1.8 Indemnity and Exclusion of Liability

- (a) In addition to and without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement, save for Losses directly arising from our gross negligence, fraud or wilful default, we shall not be responsible or liable to you for any Losses suffered or incurred by you howsoever caused in connection with your Digital Token Account, any of your Digital Token Transactions and/or pursuant to any Digital Token Service provided to you, including any Losses arising from or in connection with:
 - (i) any devaluation in a Digital Token resulting from loss of quality, trade-ability, marketability, or issues pertaining to the integrity or asset trustworthiness of a Digital Token;
 - (ii) volatility or fluctuations in the price or value of Digital Tokens;
 - (iii) any delay, inability or failure to execute Digital Token Orders due to any reason whatsoever, including you having insufficient cleared funds in your Settlement Account or insufficient freely available Digital Tokens in your Digital Token Account, or system failure or other inaccessibility of the Trading System;
 - (iv) any Matched Trade fails to settle for any reason whatsoever, including default by any counterparty member of the Digital Exchange that directly or indirectly causes any Matched Trade (which may or may not be in the same transaction) to fail to settle; and
 - (v) any trade that was made, or deemed by the Digital Exchange to be made, as a result of any error, including error in any term (including price and volume) of the Digital Token Order(s) forming such trade, error due to the operation of the Trading System, and/or error due to a technical and/or system failure or other inaccessibility of the Trading System, the Blockchain or any of their respective component parts ("Error Trade").
- (b) In addition to and without prejudice to the above and any other provision in this Agreement, you agree to indemnify and to hold us, our Personnel, Affiliates and Agents harmless from and against any Losses, save for Losses arising directly from our or their gross negligence, fraud or wilful default, which we or they may suffer or incur in connection with your Digital Token Account, any of your Digital Token Transactions and/or pursuant to any Digital Token Service provided to you.
- (c) You acknowledge, and are fully aware and fully assume, the risks associated with the purchase, sale, transfer, deposit, receipt, keeping and administering of the Digital Tokens, including as disclosed and explained in the General Risk Disclosure Statement and/or any Applicable Agreement.

2. Digital Token Trading Services

2.1 General

- (a) Without derogating from the generality of Clause 1.2, where a Security Token is a unit in a Fund or a Security, the relevant terms applicable to such financial instruments under this Agreement shall apply equally in respect of each Digital Token Transaction involving such Security Tokens.
- (b) In respect of each Digital Token Transaction undertaken on your Instructions, you shall ensure that all Applicable Laws (including any reporting and disclosure requirements and/or shareholding restrictions) are strictly adhered to and complied with at all times and you agree that we need not enquire into or verify any action taken by you in connection therewith. You further warrant and represent that your entry into each Digital Token Transaction does not contravene any Applicable Law, including Applicable Laws relating to insider dealing, market manipulation and/or any other trading offences.
- (c) You shall make payment of all Liabilities in connection with the Digital Token Transactions that we undertake for and on your behalf on or before the due date of payment or such other date as may be notified by us to you. Without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement and these Digital Token Terms, you authorise us to debit any of your Accounts for all such Liabilities as may be payable by you to us or for any payment in connection with any Digital Token Transaction. If payment of any Liability under or in connection with these Digital Token Terms, including payment for the purchase of any Digital Tokens, is not made by the due date of such payment, we shall have the right (but not the obligation) to force sell, without giving you prior notice or obtaining your prior consent, all or any of such unpaid Digital Tokens at any time and in any manner and on such terms as we think fit and set off the proceeds thereof against all or part of such Liability. If the proceeds thereof are insufficient to set off against all of such Liability, you shall indemnify us for the difference in amount and any interest accrued thereon.

- (d) You acknowledge and agree that:
- (i) Unless otherwise disclosed to you, we shall be acting as your agent in respect of all Digital Token Transactions. You are therefore principally liable for, and shall assume all liabilities and risks (including any counterparty or settlement risk) associated with, all Digital Token Transactions entered into for and on your behalf pursuant to these Digital Token Terms, notwithstanding that such Digital Token Transactions may have been undertaken in our name without disclosure of such agency.
 - (ii) Subject to any limitation or condition prescribed by Applicable Laws, we and/or our Affiliate may, in respect of any Digital Token Transaction entered into for and on your behalf:
 - (aa) be dealing as principal for our own account in purchasing from or selling to you any Digital Token;
 - (bb) be matching such Digital Token Transaction with that of another of our customers or our Affiliate;
 - (cc) be receiving from any Agent charges, commissions, fees, rebates, discounts or other payments or benefits and you agree that we or our Affiliate (as the case may be) may retain any such payments or benefits and shall be under no obligation to account for or disclose the same to you except to the extent required by Applicable Laws; and
 - (dd) a direct or indirect material interest in any such Digital Token Transaction.
- (e) Without prejudice to any provision in this Agreement and/or these Digital Token Terms, you acknowledge and agree that we may, from time to time, have to accept sole and principal responsibility to any broker, the Digital Exchange or a member of the Digital Exchange (notwithstanding that between you and us, we act as your agent). You further acknowledge and agree that:
- (i) by reason of the foregoing, any Digital Token purchased by us for and on your behalf may be regarded by the broker, the Digital Exchange or the member as being Digital Tokens purchased by us for our own account and this may result in prejudice to you; and
 - (ii) notwithstanding that such broker, the Digital Exchange and/or a member may look to us to honour and settle any Digital Token Transaction, you shall be principally liable for, and shall assume all liabilities and risks (including any market, counterparty or settlement risk) associated with, all Digital Token Transactions entered into pursuant to these Digital Token Terms for and on your behalf, and you shall indemnify us, in accordance with Clause 1.8, for any Losses we may suffer or incur in connection with such Digital Token Transactions (including any amounts required or deemed required under Applicable Laws, any amount that the Digital Exchange may require us to reimburse the Digital Exchange, or compensate the counterparty member for, or any other penalties that may be imposed by the Digital Exchange in the event a Matched Trade fails to settle, or any other costs or expenses incurred on your behalf).

2.2 Exchange Rate, Transactions and Limits

- (a) The exchange rate or purchase price (as denominated in fiat currency) for Digital Tokens is determined by the Digital Exchange and not the Bank. You acknowledge and agree that (i) the exchange rate or purchase price for Digital Tokens may vary from time to time (including within the same Business Day); (ii) the exchange rate or purchase price at which a particular Digital Token Order is executed may not necessarily be the same as that which a separate Digital Token Order by you involving the same Digital Token was executed; and (iii) the exchange rate or purchase price for Digital Tokens acquired through the Digital Exchange may be significantly different from the exchange rates or purchase prices in the general markets or quoted on other exchanges or trading platforms.

- (b) The Bank may in our absolute discretion, without giving any reason and without notice to you, at any time and from time to time, impose any limits, including without limitation, position limits and limits on contract size in respect of your Digital Token Account and you shall not exceed such limits. Any limits imposed by the Bank may be reviewed by the Bank from time to time. Where the Digital Exchange imposes limits which are different from the limits imposed by the Bank, you shall be obliged to comply with the limits imposed by the Bank.

2.3 Conduct of Transactions

- (a) The Bank will execute your Digital Token Order only if there is sufficient cash and/or Digital Tokens in your Settlement Account and/or Digital Token Account. In particular:
 - (i) we will submit your “buy” Digital Token Order to the Digital Exchange for execution only if your Settlement Account has sufficient available cleared funds to fund such “buy” Digital Token Order and all applicable charges and expenses for the Digital Token Transaction; and
 - (ii) we will submit your “sell” Digital Token Order to the Digital Exchange for execution only if your Digital Token Account has sufficient freely available Digital Tokens to enable the “sell” Digital Token Order to be settled.
- (b) You acknowledge and agree that:
 - (i) upon submitting a Digital Token Order to the Bank, you are solely responsible for ensuring that the balance of cash and/or Digital Tokens in the Settlement Account and/or Digital Token Account is at all material times sufficient to fund any such Digital Token Order and/or to meet the resulting settlement obligations;
 - (ii) upon matching of a “buy” or “sell” Digital Token Order on the Trading System, a trade is formed and executed which is final and binding on you (a “Matched Trade”);
 - (iii) all Matched Trades are to be settled in full on the same day (“Digital Token Settlement Date”);
 - (iv) in the event a Matched Trade fails to settle for any reasons whatsoever, including default by the counterparty member of the Digital Exchange or if you do not have sufficient freely available Digital Tokens in your Digital Token Account to effect settlement of the Matched Trade, we may, but shall not be obliged to, subject to Applicable Laws, take any action in our absolute discretion to facilitate settlement of the Matched Trade, including (i) any action under Clause 2.1(c) or any other provision of this Agreement, or (ii) purchasing such number of Digital Tokens at such time and on such terms as we think fit, for and on your behalf for the purposes of effecting settlement of such Matched Trade;
 - (v) in the event of an Error Trade, the Bank may take any action as it deems appropriate to comply with Applicable Laws or other direction of the Digital Exchange and/or to resolve the Error Trade; and
 - (vi) you shall be responsible for and indemnify us, in accordance with Clause 1.8, for any Losses that we may suffer or incur in connection with such action taken by us.
- (c) All “buy” and “sell” Digital Token Orders referable to you on the Trading System shall be automatically settled where so designated by the Digital Exchange. All Error Trades designated as such by the Digital Exchange shall be automatically reversed where so designated by the Digital Exchange.
- (d) The investor should be aware of the trading hours of the Digital Exchange and application of the market phases (e.g. “Pre-Open”, “Non-Cancel”, “Trading” phases and others) which are published by the Exchange and are subject to changes by the Exchange without prior notice.

2.4 Digital Token Orders

- (a) You acknowledge that acceptance by us of your Digital Token Order will not necessarily result in its execution. Without prejudice to the rest of this Clause 2.4, your Digital Token Order may not be executed if, without limitation, (a) market conditions do not permit (e.g. due to volatility in the price or value of Digital Tokens or exchange rates or limited market liquidity), and/or (b) such execution is inconsistent with or contrary to any Applicable Laws (including those pertaining to the prevention of fraud, money laundering, terrorism financing and the provision of financial or other services to any person or entity which may be subjected to sanctions). If we are unable to execute any Digital Token Order, we will inform you as soon as reasonably practicable, whereupon such Digital Token Order shall expire. You acknowledge and agree that we shall not be responsible or liable to you for any Losses you may suffer arising from any delay or omission in connection with the receipt, transmission or execution of any Digital Token Order, except where such Losses are directly caused by our gross negligence, fraud or wilful default.
- (b) You agree that we may, at our absolute discretion:
 - (i) aggregate and consolidate any Digital Token Order received from you in relation to any Digital Token Transaction with similar orders received from other customers before transmitting them to the Digital Exchange or communicating them to any Agent for execution; and
 - (ii) to the extent permitted under Applicable Laws, allot or distribute the Digital Tokens purchased or sold arising from such consolidated orders in any manner as we deem fit. You accept that such allotment or distribution or action by us may result in Losses to you and you accept the risk thereof as being for your account. In the event that the consolidated orders are only partially executed, you agree that we shall be entitled to allocate fewer units of Digital Tokens to you than that you placed an order for.
- (c) Unless otherwise specified, all Digital Token Transactions undertaken on your Digital Token Orders shall be executed in our name. All such Digital Tokens purchased by you shall be held by us (as custodian for you in accordance with these Digital Token Terms).
- (d) After you have submitted any Digital Token Order to the Bank and if such Digital Token Order has been accepted and transmitted to the Digital Exchange, such Digital Token Order may be cancelled only if the cancellation is accepted by the Digital Exchange. Digital Token Orders are irrevocable once a Matched Trade has been formed.
- (e) You may submit your Digital Token Orders to the Bank by such means as may be prescribed by the Bank and communicated to you from time to time. The Bank may, in our absolute discretion, impose requirements for Digital Token Orders, including in relation to minimum order size, as notified to you from time to time. The Bank shall not be under any obligation to accept any Digital Token Order submitted by means other than as prescribed pursuant to this Clause 2.4(e), and unless in compliance with such requirements prescribed pursuant to this Clause 2.4(e).

3. Digital Token Custody Services

3.1 Establishment of Accounts

You authorise the Bank to establish on its books, pursuant to the terms of these Digital Token Terms, a custody account (the “Digital Token Account”) for the receipt, safekeeping and administration of Digital Tokens.

3.2 Designation of Accounts

- (a) Any Digital Tokens deposited in, and the rights in respect of, the Digital Token Account shall belong exclusively to you legally (other than in the case of Security Tokens where required under Applicable Laws) and beneficially, regardless of whether the blockchain addresses are held in your name, in the name of several customers of the Bank (including you), in the name of the Bank as a custodian for its customers (including you) from time to time, or in the name of an Agent, and shall be entrusted to the Bank for safekeeping as follows:
 - (i) The Digital Token Account will be in your name to:

- (aa) reflect that the Digital Tokens belong to you legally (other than in the case of Security Tokens where required under Applicable Laws) and beneficially, and are merely in the custody of the Bank. The Bank acting as custodian does not constitute us as a trustee (other than a bare trustee in the case of Security Tokens where required under Applicable Laws) and we shall have no trust, fiduciary or other obligations in respect of any Digital Tokens kept in custody with us pursuant to these Digital Token Terms, save for those expressly provided for in this Agreement or as otherwise agreed in writing;
 - (bb) reflect that the Digital Tokens do not belong to the Bank, and are received, kept, and administered by the Bank for you; and
 - (cc) subject to Clause 3.3 below, to segregate, on the books and records of the Bank, the Digital Tokens held by the Bank for its customers from the Digital Tokens and other cryptocurrencies held by the Bank for our own account and/or the account of our Affiliates.
- (b) You agree and acknowledge that while any Digital Tokens which the Bank has agreed to accept custody of shall remain in the Digital Token Account, the Bank shall be entitled to use any number of blockchain addresses in connection with the receipt, safekeeping, and/or administration of such Digital Tokens, and you shall not be entitled to have any type of access to any such blockchain addresses, regardless of whether the blockchain addresses are held in your name, in the name of several customers of the Bank (including yours), in the name of the Bank as a custodian for its customers (including you), or in the name of an Agent, from time to time.
 - (c) You undertake that any Digital Tokens deposited in, and the rights in respect of, the Digital Token Account are legally (other than in the case of Security Tokens where required under Applicable Laws) and beneficially owned by you and are not received, kept and/or administered on trust for any other person.
 - (d) Your Digital Token Account and all Digital Tokens are non-interest bearing.

3.3 Segregation of Digital Tokens

- (a) The Bank may determine, in its absolute discretion, how it shall receive, keep and administer the Digital Tokens. The Bank may commingle your Digital Tokens with the Digital Tokens of the Bank's other customers. The Bank may hold your Digital Tokens through an Agent. You acknowledge that your interest in the Digital Tokens may therefore not be identifiable by specific individualised coins, tokens or cryptocurrency unit or specific transaction history, blockchain address or private key or any form of physical documentation or electronic records (including separate certificates, or other physical documents or equivalent electronic records), and the Bank shall maintain records of your interest in the Digital Tokens that have been commingled. Without prejudice to Clause 3.2(a), you further acknowledge that the Bank shall be entitled to use shared blockchain addresses to receive and keep your Digital Tokens with the Digital Tokens and other cryptocurrencies of the Bank's other customers.
- (b) You further agree and acknowledge that the Bank shall be entitled to receive, keep and administer the Digital Tokens on a fungible basis and to re-deliver the Digital Tokens not in specie but of the same denomination. In particular, the Bank does not generally support Bitcoin's "coloured coins", or any other method which presently exists or which may hereafter be developed, to associate certain Digital Payment Tokens or other cryptocurrencies with any particular metadata, and you acknowledge and agree that where any Digital Payment Token is delivered to the Bank, any associated metadata may be lost, and the Bank has no liability for any Losses in relation thereto.

3.4 Bank's Discretion

- (a) The Bank reserves the right to at any time and for such duration as the Bank deems fit, in its absolute discretion, without assigning any reason whatsoever, suspend and/or freeze the operations of the Digital Token Account and/or any other Account, or to delay or withhold the crediting of the Digital Token Account and/or any other Account, including in situations where:

- (i) the Bank has grounds to believe, based on information gathered or received by the Bank, that the Digital Token Account and/or other Account, Instructions or Digital Token Transactions is or was conducted for an illegal purpose; and/or
 - (ii) the Bank deems necessary for compliance with any Applicable Law, or any policy of the DBS Group, including those pertaining to the prevention of fraud, money laundering, terrorism financing and the provision of financial or other services to any person or entity which may be subjected to sanctions.
- (b) Without prejudice to any other provision in this Agreement, the Bank may refuse, in our absolute discretion, without assigning any reason whatsoever, to accept any Digital Payment Tokens or other cryptocurrencies for custody in the Digital Token Account, including:
 - (i) any Digital Payment Tokens or other cryptocurrencies which are not delivered to the Bank in accordance with the terms of these Digital Token Terms or in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Bank from time to time;
 - (ii) any Digital Payment Token or other cryptocurrencies transferred to a blockchain address controlled by the Bank, without a valid and subsisting Transfer-In Instruction (e.g. you did not or failed to submit a Transfer-In Instruction, the Transfer-In Instruction has lapsed or been withdrawn or cancelled by you, or the Bank has rejected or cancelled the Transfer-In Instruction, or any Digital Payment Tokens or other cryptocurrencies transferred in excess of the amount stipulated in the Transfer-In Instruction);
 - (iii) any Digital Payment Tokens or other cryptocurrencies transferred to a blockchain address controlled by the Bank but cannot be traced to the information provided by you as part of the Transfer-In Instructions;
 - (iv) any Digital Payment Tokens or other cryptocurrencies which are not or cease to be Supported Cryptocurrencies; and/or
 - (v) any Digital Payment Tokens or other cryptocurrencies which the Bank in our absolute discretion determines to be associated with unusual, illegal or illicit activities, circumstances or transactions, or the acceptance of which will or may to cause the Bank to be in breach of any Applicable Laws, or any policy of the DBS Group, including those pertaining to the prevention of fraud, money laundering, terrorism financing and the provision of financial or other services to any person or entity which may be subjected to sanctions, in which event, the Bank reserves the right to, in our absolute discretion, detain, return (to the originating blockchain address after deducting the administrative fees and transaction costs for processing such return (including all transfer fees as incurred)), dispose of or otherwise deal with such Digital Payment Tokens or other cryptocurrencies (including taking any action as may be required for compliance with any Applicable Laws, or any policy of DBS Group, including those pertaining to the prevention of fraud, money laundering, terrorism financing and the provision of financial or other services to any person or entity which may be subjected to sanctions).

- (c) Without prejudice to any other provision in this Agreement, the Bank may refuse, in our absolute discretion, without assigning any reason whatsoever, to accept any Security Tokens for custody in the Digital Token Account, and in which event, the Bank reserves the right to, in our absolute discretion, detain, return (by whatever means appropriate in the context, and after deducting the administrative fees and transaction costs for processing such return (including all transfer fees as incurred)), dispose of or otherwise deal with such Security Tokens (including taking any action as may be required for compliance with any Applicable Laws, or any policy of DBS Group, including those pertaining to the prevention of fraud, money laundering, terrorism financing and the provision of financial or other services to any person or entity which may be subjected to sanctions).
 - (d) In addition to and without prejudice to any other provision in this Agreement, the Bank may, in our absolute discretion, conduct any transfer in relation to your Digital Token Account or other Account, or add, alter, rectify and/or correct the particulars set out in your Digital Token Account or other Account, including to rectify or reverse any Error Trade or any other error.

3.5 Compliance with Guidelines etc.

You agree to comply with any and all guidelines, notices, rules and policies pertaining to the Digital Tokens and the use and/or access of the Digital Token Services, as well as any amendments to aforementioned, issued by the Bank from time to time. The Bank reserves the right to unilaterally amend, modify, replace and/or update these guidelines, notices, rules and policies from time to time by giving you written notice thereof, specifying a date on which such amendment, modification, replacement and/or update shall take effect.

3.6 Treatment of Instructions to Withdraw

- (a) Upon the Bank's receipt and acceptance of any Instruction to withdraw Digital Tokens from the Digital Token Account, the relevant amount of Digital Tokens will be earmarked and will not be available for the purposes of entering into or concluding any Digital Token Transactions.
- (b) You hereby agree and acknowledge that settlement of any Instructions to withdraw Digital Tokens from the Digital Token Account may be delayed. Such delay may be due to, without limitation, the time taken for the Bank or an Agent to process your Instructions, or to perform screening or other checks to ensure compliance with Applicable Laws pertaining to the prevention of fraud, money laundering, terrorism financing and the provision of financial or other services to any person or entity which might be subjected to sanctions.

3.7 Credits to the Digital Token Account

- (a) Subject always to Clause 3.4(a) and Clause 3.4(b) above, the Bank is only obligated to credit the applicable quantity of Digital Tokens to the Digital Token Account:
 - (i) upon receipt and acceptance by the Bank of the relevant Digital Tokens following settlement of the relevant "buy" Digital Token Order, or of the relevant Security Tokens following the issuance and allotment thereof in relation to an initial offering, corporate action or otherwise;
 - (ii) upon receipt and acceptance by the Bank of the relevant Digital Payment Tokens delivered pursuant to a Transfer-In Instruction; or
 - (iii) where a Network Transfer-Out Instruction is submitted, identifying the transferee Account in your name, upon the processing of such Network Transfer-Out Instruction by us.
- (b) For the purposes of Transfer-In Instructions, you acknowledge and agree that the relevant Digital Payment Tokens shall be deemed to be received by the Bank only after:
 - (i) the required number of network confirmations has occurred on the relevant public blockchain (i.e. the confirmation and reconfirmation of a transaction through the creation and addition of blocks to the relevant blockchain), such number as determined by the Bank in its absolute discretion; and
 - (ii) the Bank successfully matches the details of the Digital Token Transaction to the information provided by you as part of the Transfer-In Instructions.

3.8 Debits from the Digital Token Account

- (a) The Bank is authorised by you to debit the applicable quantity of Digital Tokens from the Digital Token Account:
 - (i) upon a Matched Trade being formed and executed pursuant to a relevant "sell" Digital Token Order;
 - (ii) in relation to any Security Token, upon a de-listing, corporate action or otherwise;
 - (iii) upon receipt and acceptance by the Bank of the relevant Transfer-Out Instruction from you; or
 - (iv) upon receipt and acceptance by the Bank of the relevant Network Transfer-Out Instruction from you.

3.9 Transfers of Digital Tokens

- (a) Unless the Bank agrees otherwise, any Security Token which is not acquired through the Bank may not be transferred into your Digital Token Account.

- (b) Transfer-In of Digital Payment Tokens

- (i) If you wish to transfer any Digital Payment Tokens into your Digital Token Account, you shall submit (or cause to be submitted) to the Bank a transfer-in Instruction ("Transfer-In Instruction") by the applicable cut-off time prescribed by the Bank in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Bank from time to time and together with such supporting documents as the Bank may require. In addition to and without prejudice to any other provision in this Agreement, the Bank may in our absolute discretion and without assigning any reason whatsoever, refuse to act on any Transfer-In Instruction.

The Bank reserves the right to, in our absolute discretion, without assigning any reason whatsoever, reject the Transfer-In Instruction or otherwise decline to provide you with a blockchain address for the deposit of the Digital Payment Tokens underlying the Transfer-In Instruction.

- (ii) Where the Bank provides you with a blockchain address for the deposit of the Digital Payment Tokens underlying the Transfer-In Instruction, you shall within the applicable cut-off time prescribed by the Bank cause:

- (aa) the exact quantity and type of Digital Payment Tokens underlying such Transfer-In Instruction to be delivered to the relevant blockchain address(es) designated by the Bank; and

- (bb) such information as may be prescribed by the Bank from time to time to be provided to the Bank, in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Bank from time to time.

- (c) Transfer-Out of Digital Payment Tokens

- (i) If you wish to withdraw any Digital Payment Tokens from your Digital Token Account, you shall submit to the Bank a transfer-out Instruction ("Transfer-Out Instruction") by the applicable cut-off time prescribed by the Bank in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Bank from time to time and together with such supporting documents as the Bank may require.
 - (ii) You undertake and represent that for all sale and Transfer-Out Instructions, you shall have the sufficient quantity of freely available Digital Payment Tokens in your Digital Token Account. The Bank reserves the right to, in our absolute discretion, without assigning any reason whatsoever, reject any sale or Transfer-Out Instruction.

- (d) Transfers to other Digital Token Accounts

- (i) If you wish to transfer Digital Tokens from a Digital Token Account in your name to a different Digital Token Account (whether in your name or in the name of another client of the Bank), you shall submit to the Bank a transfer-out Instruction ("Network Transfer-Out Instruction") by the applicable cut-off time prescribed by the Bank in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Bank from time to time and together with such supporting documents as the Bank may require, including stating the reason for the transfer.
 - (ii) You undertake and represent that you shall have the sufficient quantity of freely available Digital Payment Tokens in your Digital Token Account for all sale and transfers (including any Network Transfer-Out). The Bank reserves the right to, in our absolute discretion, without assigning any reason whatsoever, reject the Network Transfer-Out Instruction.

(e) Transfers subject to the Bank's discretion

Transfers of Digital Payment Tokens to other payment service providers are subject to the Bank's sole discretion, taking into account various considerations such as the Bank's processes, and may not always be permitted. - (b) You further acknowledge and agree that the Bank reserves the right to, in its absolute discretion, decide:
